Jury Expected To Get Lima Case Today

Final Arguments Being Given in Forsythe Hearing

LIMA (AP)—The case of Ralph Forsythe, charged with first degree murder in the slaying of Charles Conner Aug. 10, is expected to go to the jury today.

Only the final arguments of defense attorney Ernest Navarre and prosecutor Anthony J. Bowers remain in the trial, which began Nov. 18.

The prosecution has charged that the 40-year-old Forsythe shot and killed Conner at Forsythe's home during a party on Conner's 37th birthday. Conner's body has never been found.

Monday the assistant prosecutor, John R. Evans, and two of Forsythe's three attorneys made their final arguments.

Evans called two rebuttal witnesses to the stand.

Joseph Martino, ballistics expert with the State Bureau of Criminal Identification, told the court that with as few facts as were available in the alleged shooting, it would be scientifically unsound to render an opinion as to what a body would do when hit by a .38 or .45 caliber bullet.

DAVID COWLES, a ballistics expert from Cleveland called Friday by the defense, had said a .45 caliber pistol, fired from the distance Forsythe is supposed to have fired at Conner, would blow a man off his chair.

Martino testified that it would be possible for a body to slump forward as witnesses have testified Conner did after the shot was fired. However, he indicated that every case is different.

The second witness called by Evans did not get to testify, but what he had to say was put into the court record after the jury was excused from the court room.

Carl I. Zarter, a records clerk at Leavenworth Federal Penitentiary, Kan., was about to testify about a blood test given Forsythe when he was serving a sentence at Leavenworth in 1950-1954 when the defense objected.

The defense said Zarter was only a clerk and not the person who gave the test.

Judge Moran Jenkins excused Zarter, but then allowed Evans to report on what Zarter would have said.

Evans said that if Zarter had testified, he would have said that Forsythe has type A blood, according to the test made at Leavenworth in 1950.

Forsythe had testified he has type O blood, the same type that was found in his kitchen and the same, according to Conner's sister, as that of the victim.

Forsythe said he suffered a nose bleed in a fight July 17 and had dripped blood in his kitchen.

Since the jury did not hear Zarter's information, Judge Jenkins ordered them locked up each night in a Lima hotel until a verdict is given, to avoid learning what Zarter might have said.

Old-Time Star's Hoard in Shoe Box

CINCINNATI (AP)—Mrs. Mariette Branson, an old-time silent film actress, lived here in obscurity for more than a quarter century, keeping her valuables in an old shoe box.

It was the shoe box, opened by a friend the day after her death, that brought the former actress back into the headlines.

The box, holding about $55,000 in bills, securities and old gold coins, was introduced into probate court Monday.

Mrs. Branson, 66, gave the box to a friend when she entered a hospital last week. But she died Sunday and the friend turned the box over to the court.

Charitable Foundation Puts Accent on Youth

The Fayette County Charitable Foundation, organized here a few years ago, is making plans to follow the same pattern of helpful influence toward encouraging civic ambition among underprivileged children that it followed last year.

This, as one of the organization's objectives, was decided upon at a meeting of the trustees held at the county commissioners' office in the Courthouse Monday night, with the newly elected president, Clifford E. Hughes, presiding.

ANOTHER MEETING is to be held by board members on Monday, Jan. 20, at 8 p. m., in the same place, to work out details of the plan through committees named for this purpose. L. M. Hayes had general charge of last year's camp plans for youth and will assume supervision again this year with the promise of more help from the trustees than he had before.

Last summer 34 young people were sent to special YMCA, YWCA, and 4-H club camps where they enjoyed special supervision, training and recreation. Many of these young people were outfitted with proper clothing before they could be sent.

The cost of all this, according to the Foundation's records was approximately $1,700, which left the organization's balance in its treasury only about $400.

THE MONEY which the Foundation had on hand was subscribed by public spirited citizens who requested that the Foundation use their contributions for this particular purpose in helping young people. It is the policy of the Foundation, under its constitution and by-laws, to follow the expressed wishes of donors in the use of any contributions they make.

A special committee for solicitation, in seeking to secure financial help for the coming campaign season, is headed by Ray Brandenburg, and will seek contributions from the public early next year.

Another plan also was discussed at this meeting, whereby, at the

Disbarred Attorney Argues Own Case in Supreme Court

J. Harvey Crow, Urbana, today argued his own appeal in the Ohio Supreme Court, Columbus, from his disbarment as an attorney.

Champaign County Common Pleas Court disbarred Crow May 13, 1955, and the appeals court affirmed that action on charges stemming from his handling of divorces, insurance and other cases.

Crow, who has frequently practiced in Fayette County, claimed in his appeal that he did not receive a fair trial. He insisted that the disbarment action should have been started in Cuyahoga County where he lived at that time, instead of Champaign County.

Referring to charges against him, Crow asserted: "I say to this court, that they are not true."

HE ALSO questioned legality of a three-judge trial court to consider his case.

He said the Legislature provided for only one judge in Champaign Common Pleas Court.

"The trial court did not have jurisdiction, and a new trial should have been granted," Crow said.

D. H. Jackman, London, appeared at the hearing for a committee of lawyers which brought disbarment charges.

Jackman said Crow's case had come up before 19 different judges, "which probably set an all-time record in Ohio." "Probably no other country would be as patient in such a case," the Associated Press quoted Jackman as saying.

The court took the case under study without indicating when it would act on the appeal.

Crow also was disbarred in Stark County in 1935 and reinstated in 1949, records show.

The Supreme Court, previously had denied Crow's motion that he be granted a stay of execution of

Senator Calls For All-Out Missile Budget

Californian Believes People 'Demanding' Action at Any Cost

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Kuchel (R-Calif.) said today the American people are "demanding that this country forge ahead in the missile field, no matter what it may cost."

And, he added, in his judgment Congress is ready to vote defense money "on any reasonable considered and justified basis."

The senator spoke as members of the staff of the Senate Preparedness subcommittee prepared for the reopening of hearings Friday into the nation's missile-satellite programs.

Defense officials will be questioned at length on the failure last Friday of the Vanguard rocket, a 72-foot device with which the Navy attempted to put the first U. S. earth satellite into orbit.

The Office of Naval Research, which has jurisdiction over Vanguard, reported it had determined the exact cause of the rocket's failure at the Cape Canaveral, Fla., test area.

THE MISFIRE "was caused by a mechanical failure in the propulsion system, details of which are classified," the Navy said.

The failure of the Vanguard rocket stirred new congressional demands for acceleration of the satellite and missile programs. Pressure for a speedup has been building since Oct. 4 when Russia launched its first satellite, Russia put Sputnik II into orbit Nov. 30.

The chief assistant to President Eisenhower, Sherman Adams, said however, that the Vanguard failure was not as serious as some people think.

"I can't throw much light on the subject," he said. "But we'll have it straightened out before long. What we want is action and better luck next time."

Meanwhile, it was reported in London that Britain and the United States were nearing a new agreement to locate at least four bases in Britain for U. S. medium range rockets.

British officials said U. S. Secretary of Defense McElroy had given new promise that the United States would never launch a nuclear attack from its bases in England without first consulting the British government.

It is known that U. S. proposals for setting up other rocket bases in Europe already have been placed before the permanent ATO Council in Paris.

THERE WERE these other developments involving missiles and satellites, and related areas of science:

1. Heads of the Senate - House Atomic Energy Committee disclosed a plan to Eisenhower to step up scientific research and to release money appropriated by Congress for nuclear rockets.

2. The Navy announced plans to send 500 enlisted men to college each year to study science.

3. The Army arranged for a tour today of its missile-producing facilities by high-level Air Force and Defense Department officials. The department said Secretary of the Army Brucker issued the invitation "as a logical outgrowth of the recent decision by the secretary of defense to authorize production of both the Army Jupiter and Air Force Thor intermediate range missiles."

U. S. Offering Aid In Indonesia Fuss

JAKARTA (AP)—The United States was reported today offered to mediate the mounting trouble between Indonesia and the Netherlands.

U. S. Ambassador J. M. Allison called on Foreign Minister Subandrio and Premier Djuanda to express Washington's apprehension over the events in Indonesia. Subandrio said Allison offered U. S. help in seeking a solution.

Meanwhile, in Singapore, airline officials said tonight a special British plane sent to Jakarta to pick up Dutch evacuees in returning to Singapore empty.

An airport spokesman said he understood the Indonesians refused to permit the Dutch to board the BOAC plane in Jakarta.

The spokesman could give no explanation for the reported Indonesian action. Earlier reports from Jakarta said the normally slow Indonesian immigration service was issuing exit visas with "lightning speed" to the prospective evacuees.

FIFTY-FIVE persons, mostly women and children, were scheduled to travel to Singapore aboard the BOAC Argonaut. A Dutch spokesman said it would be the first of many evacuation flights planned for the immediate future.

Dutch evacuees poured into Jakarta from Bandung, Bogor, Semarang, Sumatra and other points in the Indies. Although cheerful, all showed the strain of leaving their homes, jobs and belongings for an uncertain future. But most said they were anxious to leave as soon as possible.

Indonesia has demanded that all Dutch citizens except skilled technicians leave the country. Many of them are Eurasians who have lived here all their lives.

Some 46,000 Dutch citizens still live in Indonesia.

Communist trade unions took over four more large Dutch firms including the Phillips radio and appliances factory. The Indonesian government was expected to follow up by taking over control from the unions, reinstating the Dutch managers to run them.

The Dutch firms in Jakarta which have not been seized are mostly small businesses — bookshops, retailers and garages.

Third Man Nabbed In Cop-Shooting

CLEVELAND (AP)—Police early today captured the last man of a trio involved in the slaying of Police Lt. Edward Lentz.

James Wilson Davis, 30, is described by police as the man who planned and directed the robbery of an East Side gambling den shortly before Lentz was shot.

The police officer was killed by a single bullet as he halted the men near the scene of the robbery.

PARIS (AP)—Sen. Margaret Chase Smith (R-Maine), said today Air Force personnel responsible for missile development are leaving the service at an alarming rate.

JAMES G. CROSS, president of the Bakers' Union, accuses the AFL-CIO leadership of being for democracy in trade unions only "when they are assured of the result." The AFL-CIO convention moved for expulsion of the Bakers' union unless it complies by March 15 with demands for the ouster of Cross.

Bakery Union Irks AFL-CIO

Immediate Expulsion Being Planned Today

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP)—AFL-CIO leaders, angry at repeated rebuffs in efforts to rid the Bakery Workers Union of alleged corrupt elements, today slated the 132,000-member union for immediate expulsion.

Convention delegates voted by a 7-1 margin Monday to expel the bakery group, but to withhold its effect perhaps to March 15 to give James G. Cross, accused Bakery Union president, time to abdicate.

Then when Cross reiterated he had no intention of stepping out, and would seek reelection at a special Bakery Union convention next spring, AFL-CIO President George Meany shoved ahead the expulsion timetable.

Blasting Cross as corrupt, Meany indicated the expulsion reprieve would be canceled, the union kicked out and a reform "integrity group" of the bakers chartered as a new, clean Bakery Workers Union.

The "integrity" group claims to represent about 100 local unions with some 50,000 members, or more than a third of the Bakers Union.

IT HAS HAD delegates here a week drafting a constitution and otherwise getting ready to establish a new union.

Cross, with his wife, daughter and son-in-law watching from the galleries, told delegates he had done nothing sufficiently wrong warranting the demand for his ouster. Cross said he was "a whipping boy, a scapegoat."

But Meany told delegates of Cross: "This is a remarkable guy. I have seen both sides of him and I can tell you quite frankly that this union is in a bad way if he continues to run its affairs."

Three more unions — the Laundry, Distillery and United Textile Workers unions — also face expulsion moves this week.

7 Unions Join Mass Walkout

Subway Lines Jammed By Desperate Riders

NEW YORK (AP)—New York's millions, who seldom ever find travel easy, ran into incredible difficulties this morning as a mushrooming subway strike made movement almost impossible.

The strike, begun at 5 a.m. Monday by a union representing most of the subway motormen, was joined today by six other unions and service ranged from zero on some lines to one-third on others.

As a result, countless thousands of desperate commuters jammed stations of subway arteries still giving any service and battled like football players to get on trains.

Hundreds of thousands sought vainly to switch to buses and trains operated by commuter railroads leading into Manhattan. Thousands of others sought to get to town in their cars, creating fearful traffic jams.

Travel was at a virtual standstill at many places.

THE GREAT business and industry of New York was hit hard, both from lack of workers and loss of customers during the Christmas shopping season.

The New York Transit Authority, which operates the subways and many bus lines, said there was mass picketing of a bus repair shop and four garages.

The striking motormen's union claims 2,600 of the subway system's 3,167 men who handle controls of the trains which daily carry 4,700,000 riders.

Monday the striking union was joined by conductors, towermen, signal electricians, repair shop mechanics, a coach union and plant workers.

The MBA claimed the united front put 23,000 of the city's 35,000 subway workers on strike.

Meanwhile, transit authority chairman Charles L. Patterson announced that any striking motormen who failed to show up for their jobs by this afternoon will be fired.

He also announced that the authority was offering a bonus of 25 per cent to all operating and maintenance employees who stay at work during the strike.

The authority will provide sleeping and eating facilities at various terminals and plants for those seeking to keep the transit system going.

The authority said these men also will be paid around the clock, receiving time and a half pay for all hours over eight, in addition to the 25 per cent bonus.

5 Coal Miners Die As Rocks Cave In

BECKLEY, W. Va. (AP)—Five coal miners were killed Monday night, a few minutes before their work shift was to end, when tons of rock caved in on them inside a southern West Virginia mine.

Three of the bodies were recovered during the night and a fourth sighted in the rubble, officials of the Raleigh-Wyoming Mining Co. said. The fifth body was still being sought.

Company officials blamed the accident on a "mountain bump." They said the pressure from above became so great that the mine roof broke through the heavy timbers holding it up.

152 Pints of Blood Given Here Monday

Although the Fayette County quota of 175 pints was not quite made, Mrs. Charles Shaper, chairman of the blood program, said she was "very gratified" when the Red Cross blood bank's mobile unit collected 152 pints here Monday at the First Presbyterian Church.

Mrs. Shaper, with unstated praise for the response by several industrial employes and other groups, said the 152 pints donated Monday was "very good" view of the number of direct donations made by volunteers to patients in Memorial Hospital.

Mrs. Shaper said that during just the last month, 56 pints had been given direct and noted that these donors have to be counted out when the bloodmobile comes here.

This was the last visit of the bloodmobile to the county this year and Mrs. Shaper took occasion to commend the physicians, nurses and staff aides who have helped with the multiplicity of tasks through the year.

THE BLOODMOBILE has come here six times this year and a total

Jury Expected To Get Lima Case Today

Final Arguments Being Given in Forsythe Hearing

LIMA (AP)—The case of Ralph Forsythe, charged with first degree murder in the slaying of Charles Conner Aug. 10, is expected to go to the jury today.

Only the final arguments of defense attorney Ernest Navarre and prosecutor Anthony J. Bowers remain in the trial, which began Nov. 18.

The prosecution has charged that the 40-year-old Forsythe shot and killed Conner at Forsythe's home during a party on Conner's 37th birthday. Conner's body has never been found.

Monday the assistant prosecutor, John R. Evans, and two of Forsythe's three attorneys made their final arguments.

Judge Moran Jenkins excused Zarter, but then allowed Evans to report on what Zarter would have said.

Subway Lines Jammed By Desperate Riders

NEW YORK (AP)—New York's millions, who seldom ever find travel easy, ran into incredible difficulties this morning as a mushrooming subway strike made movement almost impossible.

The strike, begun at 5 a.m. Monday by a union representing most of the subway motormen, was joined today by six other unions and service ranged from zero on some lines to one-third on others.

As a result, countless thousands of desperate commuters jammed stations of subway arteries still giving any service and battled like football players to get on trains.

Hundreds of thousands sought vainly to switch to buses and trains operated by commuter railroads leading into Manhattan. Thousands of others sought to get to town in their cars, creating fearful traffic jams.

Travel was at a virtual standstill at many places.

THE GREAT business and industry of New York was hit hard, both from lack of workers and loss of customers during the Christmas shopping season.

The New York Transit Authority, which operates the subways and many bus lines, said there was mass picketing of a bus repair shop and four garages.

The striking motormen's union claims 2,600 of the subway system's 3,167 men who handle controls of the trains which daily carry 4,700,000 riders.

Monday the striking union was joined by conductors, towermen, signal electricians, repair shop mechanics, a coach union and plant workers.

The MBA claimed the united front put 23,000 of the city's 35,000 subway workers on strike.

Meanwhile, transit authority chairman Charles L. Patterson announced that any striking motormen who failed to show up for their jobs by this afternoon will be fired.

He also announced that the authority was offering a bonus of 25 per cent to all operating and maintenance employees who stay at work during the strike.

The authority will provide sleeping and eating facilities at various terminals and plants for those seeking to keep the transit system going.

The authority said these men also will be paid around the clock, receiving time and a half pay for all hours over eight, in addition to the 25 per cent bonus.

5 Coal Miners Die As Rocks Cave In

BECKLEY, W. Va. (AP)—Five coal miners were killed Monday night, a few minutes before their work shift was to end, when tons of rock caved in on them inside a southern West Virginia mine.

Three of the bodies were recovered during the night and a fourth sighted in the rubble, officials of the Raleigh-Wyoming Mining Co. said. The fifth body was still being sought.

Company officials blamed the accident on a "mountain bump." They said the pressure from above became so great that the mine roof broke through the heavy timbers holding it up.

ROK Army Cut Slated

SEOUL (AP)—Reliable National Assembly sources today said South Korea will cut its 720,000-man army 5 per cent in 1958.

152 Pints of Blood Given Here Monday

Although the Fayette County quota of 175 pints was not quite made, Mrs. Charles Shaper, chairman of the blood program, said she was "very gratified" when the Red Cross blood bank's mobile unit collected 152 pints here Monday at the First Presbyterian Church.

Mrs. Shaper, with unstinted praise for the response by several industrial employes and other groups, said the 152 pints donated Monday was "very good" view of the number of direct donations made by volunteers to patients in Memorial Hospital.

Mrs. Shaper said that during just the last month, 56 pints had been given direct and noted that these donors have to be counted out when the bloodmobile comes here.

This was the last visit of the bloodmobile to the county this year and Mrs. Shaper took occasion to commend the physicians, nurses and staff aides who have helped with the multiplicity of tasks through the year.

THE BLOODMOBILE has come here six times this year and a total

There's only one answer to that—the audience

"HIGH FEVER FOLLIES" of 1957, which will be presented in the Washington High School auditorium Wednesday and Thursday nights by the Women's Auxiliary to the Fayette County Medical Auxiliary for the benefit of Fayette Memorial Hospital, promises fun in abundance.

And if there are more laughs than the audience can take—well, there'll be physicians on hand. There may be a slight wait for medical attention, though, because the doctors themselves are billed for a hula number.

The 10-scene musical production, in two acts, is being produced by the Jerome H. Cargill Co. under the direction of Joseph Landis. Costumes are valued at $15,000.

Performances will begin at 8 o'clock each night, and there are still tickets available for the two performances—at $2.00 each, for main floor seats and 75 cents for the upper balcony. All seats are reserved.

The admission price is, of course, a donation to the hospital for needed equipment.

More than 120 citizens of Washington C. H. and Fayette County have parts in the extravaganza.

Dulles Sees Growing Need For More Allied Unification

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles said today the North Atlantic allies must be prepared to meet more adequately the challenge of both military and economic warfare in the future.

Dulles told his last news conference before his departure Thursday for next week's NATO Council meeting in Paris that he thinks the allies can make a greater use of Europe's industrial potential in producing some of the new weapons.

He also said the whole question of global versus limited war is being restudied, but the general thinking of U. S. military leaders is that the possibility of local conflict still should be considered in planning.

The Eisenhower administration has been keeping secret the specific proposals it has worked up to give new strength in NATO. However, the general outlines have become known.

The main purpose of the Eisenhower program is to increase unity among the 11 NATO nations and to share on a greater scale the responsibility for maintaining a missile-atomic era defense against Russia.

THE PROPOSALS fall into four general fields—military, economic, scientific and political.

In the military field, the administration is reported seeking medium range (1,000-mile) missile bases in the NATO area, starting with Britain.

In the economic field, the administration unveiled its plan for a five-year extension of the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act. It would give the President power to reduce tariffs up to 21 per cent in three years, with built-in safeguards to protect domestic producers against serious injury arising from cheap imports.

In the political field, Dulles has called for greater consultation among the allies before they take any particular step. Also, Dulles has said the free world regional alliances should be in-terlocked. Another U. S. aim is to restore allied confidence in America's leadership.

In the scientific field, the administration is reported anxious to provide more atomic data to its allies. American planners are hampered, however, by legal restrictions on letting foreign countries in on American atomic secrets. Some effort is expected to be made in Congress to ease these restrictions.

the disbarment order. If the high court should rule favorably on Crow's appeal motion, a hearing on the merits of the case would be set up for a later date.

CROW, was disbarred from practice by a three-judge court sitting at Urbana.

Members of the court were Judge John P. Case of Fayette County, Judge Charles Kirk of Clinton County and Judge Paul Dull of Mercer County.

The Second District Court of Appeals granted Crow's motion for stay of execution of the judgment. The Second District court then stepped aside and three judges from other Ohio appellate courts remanded the case to the original trial court for findings of fact and conclusions of law.

THE TRIAL COURT, on Aug. 16, 1956, reentered the judgment of disbarment and again the Second District Court of Appeals granted a stay of execution.

When the Second District court again stepped aside, members of the Ninth District appellate court, sitting as the Second District court, affirmed the original trial court judgment on May 24, 1957, when a final disbarment became effective.

On June 19, the Ohio Supreme Court refused to grant another stay of execution.

quest of one donor, some of the contribution he is making, may be used for special awards to a few deserving young people in high schools of the county, to send them to a conservation camp for an outing and some study of methods to achieve civic leadership for the future. It is hoped in this way to aid youth in becoming assets to the community.

FURTHER information and possibilities in this field, where others than the underprivileged may receive such awards, will be presented for discussion at the next meeting of the trustees.

Lausche Asks Close Watch On Spending

CHICAGO (AP)—Sen. Lausche (D-Ohio) said here Monday that the apparent U. S. missile lag "has accentuated the need for eliminating government waste and duplicating spending."

He said the federal government should "not be encumbered with functions that do not logically belong to it."

Addressing a regional conference of the Citizens Committee for the Hoover Report, Lausche said President Eisenhower's planned request for additional defense department and foreign aid funds next year will seek to increase the national budget by $2½ billion over the 1957 figure.

"Our department of defense must be given the monies to bring our ballistics, space research and nuclear programs up to first place, but this must be done without impairing the economic stability of the nation," Lausche said.

"Our foreign aid program must once again be scrutinized carefully in order that our money be spent without waste."

"The coming of the Sputniks and the implication which they carry on the advances made by the Soviet in developing propulsion engines for missiles and rockets has accentuated the need for eliminating governmental waste and duplicating spending."

"Rendition of service which rightfully and historically are functions of state and local governments, and the entrance of the federal government into business operations which properly belong to private enterprise, must end."

Cleveland Protesting Ohio Bell Rate Hike

COLUMBUS (AP)—Three Cleveland officials Monday asked the Utilities Commission to delay advance work on an anticipated rate increase request by Ohio Bell Telephone Co. until the application for the increase is filed.

Ralph S. Locher, law director; Joseph H. Crowley, chief counsel, and Andrew R. Sarisky, assistant law director, said previous planning by the commission would put Cleveland at a disadvantage in opposing the increase.

Santa and the STRONG BOY

by LUCRECE HUDGINS BEALE

SYNOPSIS: Cruel King Ignatz of Ketchikan orders the circus people to amuse him or be imprisoned. They put on their acts but cannot make the king laugh. "Get the Strong Boy!" cried Mr. Maxim. But Richard cannot be found.

CHAPTER SIX THE KING IS AMUSED

"Is this all there is to your circus?" demanded King Ignatz. "I have not been amused."

"There is one more thing, your majesty," said Mr. Maxim. "Our Strong Boy act."

"Bring it on, then," said the king.

But no one could find the Strong Boy for Richard was hiding in a costume trunk in the center of the ring. The sight of King Ignatz waving his sword and the sound of his fierce shouting had so frightened the boy that he had leaped into the trunk and pulled down the lid.

To hide himself even better he wrapped himself round and round with the costumes in the trunk.

"They'll never find me!" he whispered to himself.

But he did not know his own strength. The trunk was old and weak and as Richard thrashed about there was a sudden awful creaking and the four sides of the trunk burst open.

There, before the astonished king, stood Richard with a plumed hat on his head, a clown's mask on his face, and a ballerina's dress draped from his shoulders.

"And who, pray, is this?" demanded the king at last.

"Y-your majesty," quavered Mr. Maxim, "this is the S-Strongest Boy in the World!"

"Oh!" said King Ignatz, and he began to laugh. "Ho! Ho! Ho!" He threw back his head and laughed until the tears rolled down his cheeks. "The Strongest Boy in the World!" he cried. "Oh, what a joke!" He pointed at Richard, whose teeth were chattering so that the sound could be heard all over the tent. "That's the funniest sight I've ever seen! I am amused!"

Mr. Maxim and all the circus folk sighed with relief.

"You may go free," said King Ignatz grandly.

"Thank you, your majesty," bowed Mr. Maxim.

"Only," said King Ignatz, "I shall keep your Strong Boy. He will be my jester. He will live with me and amuse me."

"But, your majesty," protested Mr. Maxim. "He's only a dimwitted boy and—"

"Good," said the king. "He will not dare to match wits with me. Come, now. Leave my kingdom but leave the boy behind."

He waved his sword and his guards surrounded Richard and marched him to the king's palace. It was a place of dreadful gloom. It was surrounded by 20 foot walls and a moat. Every window was barred and every other door led to a dungeon cell.

"Now, boy," said King Ignatz, "you are to make me laugh whenever I say. I often need to be cheered."

"I'm sure you do," said Richard timidly.

"Why so?" demanded the king in surprise.

"Because your palace is so gloomy," said Richard.

"It's the finest money can buy," thundered the king. "What would you know about palaces anyway?"

"I have been in a palace," murmured Richard.

Ignatz guffawed. "Oh you do make me laugh. You've never been in a palace except in your dreams."

"All the same," said Richard, "a palace should be bright and splendid with gardens around it and happy people everywhere."

"What nonsense!" cried Ignatz. "A king who treats his people to happiness is a weak king. I am the greatest king in the land and I am going to conquer all the world. Tomorrow I am setting out to conquer the Kingdom of Mitzenoo."

"Mitzenoo?" gasped Richard.

"Yes. By Christmas Day the King of Mitzenoo will be at my feet."

Richard's face turned white and his heart pounded and suddenly he himself fell in a faint at Ignatz' feet.

Publisher Fears Reds Able To Knock Out U. S. Defense

SPRINGFIELD (AP) — The earth satellites prove Russia is now capable of destroying almost instantly America's only major defense, the Strategic Air Command, newspaper publisher James M. Cox Jr. declared Monday.

Cox addressed the Springfield Rotary club. He publishes newspapers in Springfield and Dayton, Ohio; Miami, Fla. and Atlanta, Ga., and has radio and television facilities in Dayton, Miami and Atlanta.

Russia could bring heavy destruction on the Strategic Air Command (SAC) by using medium range directed missiles, Cox warned. Emphasizing that he did not wish to appear an alarmist, Cox said:

"I feel our country is in a position of great peril and that all media of information should quietly, but forcefully, present the situation. America has faced many difficult times during its brief history. I believe if awakened and informed we will meet this challenge."

Cox said that "open, decent and sensible negotiations to maintain peace apparently are out of the question." He warned that the United States is facing "what appears to be a technological lead in certain very deadly weapons possessed in quantity by the Soviets."

"The launching of sputnik," he said, "proves they, the Russians, have launching capabilities that pose a definite threat to our only deterrent, namely, the retaliatory power of the Strategic Air Command, which is superbly manned, trained, led and ready to fight within 15 minutes."

The men of the SA are ready, willing and able, Cox said. "However, he added, they could be facing almost instant destruction by medium range, directed missiles. In addition, they are situated in such countries...where the stability of local governments is being constantly nibbled by Communist agitators."

Cox emphasized that America must create a defense at the lowest possible price because, "if we don't, we can be defeated—with our firing a shot—by becoming economically bankrupt."

To meet the Soviet challenge, Cox suggested the re-evaluation of America's educational system from the grade school to the university, correction of the "disgraceful low pay of our teachers," and the maintenance of special technical schools for unusual students.

"It may be that this emergency will turn out to be godsend if it awakens the country to cold, hard, realistic thinking about our problems," he concluded.

Love Life of Toad Object of Study

NORMAN, Okla. (AP) — Dr. Arthur N. Bragg, zoologist at the University of Oklahoma, wondered just how old a toad is when he starts courting.

To find out, he spent many nights huddled at the side of ponds in the country. He found that when the male toad can give out with his mating song, he was old enough to court.

Santa and the STRONG BOY

by LUCRECE HUDGINS BEALE

SYNOPSIS: Cruel King Ignatz of Ketchikan orders the circus people to amuse him or be imprisoned. They put on their acts but cannot make the king laugh. "Get the Strong Boy!" cried Mr. Maxim. But Richard cannot be found.

CHAPTER SIX
THE KING IS AMUSED
"Is this all there is to your circus?" demanded King Ignatz. "I have not been amused."
"There is one more thing, your majesty," said Mr. Maxim. "Our Strong Boy act."
"Bring it on, then," said the king.

But no one could find the Strong Boy for Richard was hiding in a costume trunk in the center of the ring. The sight of King Ignatz waving his sword and the sound of his fierce shouting had so frightened the boy that he had leaped into the trunk and pulled down the lid.

To hide himself even better he wrapped himself round and round with the costumes in the trunk.

"They'll never find me!" he whispered to himself.

But he did not know his own strength. The trunk was old and weak and as Richard thrashed about there was a sudden awful creaking and the four sides of the trunk burst open.

There, before the astonished king, stood Richard with a plumed hat on his head, a clown's mask on his face, and a ballerina's dress draped from his shoulders.

"And who, pray, is this?" demanded the king at last.

"Y-your majesty," quavered Mr. Maxim, "this is the S-Strongest Boy in the World!"

"Oh!" said King Ignatz, and he began to laugh. "Ho! Ho! Ho!" He threw back his head and laughed until the tears rolled down his cheeks. "The Strongest Boy in the World!" he cried. "Oh, what a joke!" He pointed at Richard, whose teeth were chattering so that the sound could be heard all over the tent. "That's the funniest sight I've ever seen! I am amused!"

Mr. Maxim and all the circus folk sighed with relief.

"You may go free," said King Ignatz grandly.

"Thank you, your majesty," bowed Mr. Maxim.

"Only," said King Ignatz, "I shall keep your Strong Boy. He will be my jester. He will live with me and amuse me."

"But, your majesty," protested Mr. Maxim. "He's only a dimwitted boy and—"

He waved his sword and his guards surrounded Richard and marched him to the king's palace. It was a place of dreadful gloom. It was surrounded by 20 foot walls and a moat. Every window was barred and every other door led to a dungeon cell.

"Now, boy," said King Ignatz, "you are to make me laugh whenever I say. I often need to be cheered."

"I'm sure you do," said Richard timidly.

"Why so?" demanded the king in surprise.

"Because your palace is so gloomy," said Richard.

"It's the finest money can buy," thundered the king. "What would you know about palaces anyway?"

"I have been in a palace," murmured Richard.

Ignatz guffawed. "Oh you do make me laugh. You've never been in a palace except in your dreams."

"All the same," said Richard, "a palace should be bright and splendid with gardens around it and happy people everywhere."

"What nonsense!" cried Ignatz.

"A king who treats his people to happiness is a weak king. I am the greatest king in the land and I am going to conquer all the world. Tomorrow I am setting out to conquer the Kingdom of Mitzenoo."

"Mitzenoo?" gasped Richard.

"Yes. By Christmas Day the King of Mitzenoo will be at my feet."

Richard's face turned white and his heart pounded and suddenly he himself fell in a faint at Ignatz's feet.

(Tomorrow: Richard's Plan)

Publisher Fears Reds Able To Knock Out U. S. Defense

SPRINGFIELD — The earth satellites prove Russia is now capable of destroying almost instantly America's only major defense, the Strategic Air Command, newspaper publisher James M. Cox Jr. declared Monday.

Cox addressed the Springfield Rotary club. He publishes newspapers in Springfield and Dayton, Ohio; Miami, Fla. and Atlanta, Ga., and has radio and television facilities in Dayton, Miami and Atlanta.

Russia could bring heavy destruction on the Strategic Air Command (SAC) by using medium range directed missiles, Cox warned. Emphasizing that he did not wish to appear an alarmist, Cox said:

"I feel our country is in a position of great peril and that all media of information should quietly, but forcefully, present the situation. America has faced many difficult times during its brief history. I believe if awakened and informed we will meet this challenge."

Cox said that "open, decent and sensible negotiations to maintain peace apparently are out of the question." He warned that the United States is facing "what appears to be a technological lead in certain very deadly weapons possessed in quantity by the Soviets."

"The launching of sputnik," he said, "proves they, the Russians, have launching capabilities that pose a definite threat to our only deterrent, namely, the retaliatory power of the Strategic Air Command, which is superbly manned, trained, led and ready to fight within 15 minutes."

The men of the SA are ready, willing and able, Cox said. "However, he added, they could be facing almost instant destruction by medium range, directed missiles. Harmful Inconsistency In Some TV Pictures

A Washington C. H. man, who is regarded as a rather keen observer of current events, was heard to remark a few days ago, that at a time when the free world is gravely concerned over the threat of Communistic progress, it would seem rather imprudent that there is so much wholesale showing of anti-Japanese, anti-German and some pro-Russian films which have been almost monopolizing various television screens.

He pointed out that with World War II more than 12 years past, and with hundreds of high salaried persons, along with thousands of our American troops, trying to sell the good things about our country on foreign soil, it seems inconsistent that the people at home have television stations tossing a lot of this type of "pictorial garbage," which continues to re-inflame hatred here, especially among those who are emotionally inclined and easily influenced by such things.

This man referred to some typical recent showing of a film which pictured service men being captured by Japanese who are shown as barbarians who slit tongues, pulled out fingernails, crippled hands and otherwise carried on monstrous crime against prisoners of war. All this was typical of some of the propaganda films of years ago which some script writers were hired, possibly to dream up. It was said that in the same scene heroic Russians were standing by to do their utmost to help the Americans.

Obviously such a movie of bygone days was a part of a package deal which the television station picked up at a price and sold sight unseen to some sponsor who, in fact, was unwittingly doing a bad act of selling democracy by such a move.

Newspapers, like television, frequently find in their possession material which they have bought, but which is not usable, because it is contrary to ethics or morals. Hundreds of dollars of bait advertising is turned away annually, even in a small town newspaper, for the protection of its readers.

The immediate loss of dollars is negligible when it is weighed against the readership confidence and goodwill which thrives without its presence.

The parade of third rate movies which some television stations keep shoving to late audiences has already lived too long. It is time that the same decency code which governs the language of the performers in live shows, guide those in power, to pay more attention to the fare they serve and make it more consistent with the doctrines which are preached today by our leaders.

Muses from Mr. Murgatroyd

WASHINGTON (AP)—"A man," said Mr. Murgatroyd suddenly, "is only as old as his wife feels."
"Then I'm getting you a wheelchair for Christmas," said Mrs. Murgatroyd, laying aside her embroidery, "if this is going to be one of those evenings when you're in your philosopher mood, I think I'll address those Christmas cards you were going to do last night."
"Procrastination," mused Mr. Murgatroyd, "is the thief of time. Yet time is money. Therefore procrastination is the thief of money, which is ridiculous. Most men make their money while putting off the things they really want to do."
"That's one mistake you never made," murmured Mrs. Murgatroyd, busy with stamps, cards and envelopes. "You didn't bother to make any money in the first place. I wonder if last year's address is still right for the Niblicks, or did he take that job in Pasadena?"
"Just address it in care of his psychiatrist," said Mr. Murgatroyd.

troyd. "A psychiatrist is a man you can afford to go to because you worked so hard you need a psychiatrist."
"Some people," said Mrs. Murgatroyd with dark emphasis, "would go to a psychiatrist simply for the chance to lie down on a couch. The least you could do is get up and stamp these envelopes."
"A human being," said Mr. Murgatroyd, wriggling comfortably, "is too complex and valuable an organism to undertake what a bit of sponge and a saucer of water could do better. Have you ever wondered how many woman-hours you have wasted in licking stamps? Think of the books you could have read in that time, the walks in the snow you could have taken."
"The last time you and I walked in the snow," said Mrs. Murgatroyd, a trifle grimly, "was all the way to the corner mailbox. You wore those old boots that are too small for you, and got blisters on both heels, and took to your bed for three days."

"Suffering," meditated Mr. Murgatroyd, "refines the soul. If not the heel."
"There are some heels I know," said Mrs. Murgatroyd, jabbing a fairly savage period to a jolly yuletide greeting. "Who could do with a little refinement, if you get my meaning?"
"Meaning," echoed Mr. Murgatroyd. "What is meaning? A snowflake, a child's tear—both drops of moisture, and yet—"
"And yet," re-echoed Mrs. Murgatroyd, "you'll have tears streaming down the cheeks of a perfectly good nephew if you don't soon get off that davenport and buy the electric train you promised him."

Big Jobs for the Experts

A fellow was telling me at great length how quite a successful and distinguished citizen would never have got to first base had it not been for a fairly well-known public relations counsel who "made him." There being a difference in age and achievement between the successful and distinguished citizen and the well-known public relations counsel, I asked who made the former before he met the latter.
Always when a politician emerges to distinction, the stories go the rounds about who made him. For instance, Louis Howe made Frank D. Roosevelt, but once made he continued on after Howe died.
In fact, Roosevelt survived politically his original brain trust consisting of Raymond Moley, Rexford Tugwell, A. A. Berle, Jr.; he survived Tommy Corcoran and Ben Cohen; he survived James A. Farley; he survived Hugh Johnson. I often wondered who made him what he was, for better or for worse.
A friend of mine recently changed jobs, and I heard of half a dozen men who accepted responsibility for the change. As I happened to know, none of them were consulted about it, none of them knew the facts, none of them had any rights in the matter. But they liked to take the bows and the credit. It added to their ego.
It is like doctors who are forbidden in this country to advertise but who are not forbidden to give the impression of esoteric knowledge amounting almost to the miraculous.
Since I have had the second most publicized heart attack in the United States, I have been importuned by friends and others to go to this doctor or that, each one being the very top man in his profession.
Like, I am sure, is safeguarded from this, but it has always reminded me of how German doctors used to treat rich Chinese in Shanghai:
"Ach ja," the doctor would say

pompously. "What you have only five men in the world can cure. I am one of the five, naturally. However, if you do not trust me, I can recommend Herr Professor Doktor Sauerbraten of Hamburg who has a clinic for such diseases."
The disease was over-eating and one of its consequences, indigestion.
This doctor did not need a press agent to make him. He did it all himself with great care. The formula was not unusual. The cure was usually efficacious, some form of bicarbonate of soda, put together under a brand name. The result: the doctor got rich.
Making men is an old profession but current manifestations are new. "Had I but served my God with half the zeal I served my King," said Cardinal Wolsey of Henry VIII. However, Henry survived and proceeded onward after his maker dropped dead.
It is not all ingratitude either, for sometimes the makee gets very tired of being told that he has no talent, no ability, no genius but somehow got to the top of his line despite all his disabilities because somebody who never did much for himself, made him. Why did not the universal maker achieve something on his own?
There is big money in this "making" business. One way to do it is to create unpleasant situations, to stir up suspicions and hatreds, to accelerate strife, and then to offer one's services for pay to straighten things out. This is a specialty of some lawyers who know how to walk both sides of the street without slipping. A combination of a lawyer and a public relations counsel, perhaps with a so-called investment broker, can throw a business into turmoil and open the door to raiders and take-over artists, which no matter how you look at it, can be profitable even if only to be bought off.

Some school of business administration or a school of journalism might give a course in this art. I think I could recommend the professors, great artists at making a buck out of starting rows and then hiring themselves out to one side or the other.
It is curious how often the same names come up in these transactions. Naturally, there are always experts in every field and the big jobs go to the experts.
That is how Murder Inc. got started—that is, by the big jobs going to the experts.

Bogus St. Nick Found To Be Rather Youthful
PATERSON, N.J. (AP)—Santa Claus had a tough time here when the make-believe St. Nick, complete with beard and boots, was picked up by police after soliciting for three hours in the downtown area and collecting money from passersby. Police gave the errant Santa's age as 10. His haul: $6.65.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

A KENTUCKY horse fancier admitted he was so anxious for his new hopeful to win his first race, he surreptitiously fed it six mint juleps in the paddock.

"Did it go out to win?" asked a friend. "No," admitted the owner, "he came in last. But he sure was the happiest horse in the race!"

At a big auto show, a dealer saw a man consult the price tag on a new model, smile happily, and summon his wife. The dealer hastily explained, "That price tag, you must realize, covers only the federal, state, county and city taxes. The price of the car is additional."

A gentleman had finished dinner in an expensive 52nd street restaurant when he was horrified to discover he didn't have enough money with him to pay the bill and customary tip. "Don't let that upset you," soothed the understanding waiter. "I'll just add up your bill again."

Diet and Health Limit Fatty Foods To Keep Family Well

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN
You can do a lot to protect your family's health right at the dinner table.

Heart disease, you have been advised time and time again, is the nation's number one killer as far as diseases are concerned. Some 400,000 Americans are stricken every year.

We've long recognized the fact that the principal villain in the heart disease picture is cholesterol. This is a fatty alcohol which enters our blood through the foods we eat, primarily fatty foods.

It is part of the fatty compounds which we call beta-lipoproteins. This element gathers on the walls of the arteries and gradually closes them off, making it more and more difficult for the heart to circulate the blood.

We eat an average of 1,995 meals a year, give or take a few. And how often do we eat fatty foods at these meals? See the connection?

Dr. Norman Jolliffe, famed New York nutritionist, places the responsibility for stamping out a large percentage of heart disease squarely upon the housewife.

As a guide for planning more healthy menus, he lists the following rules:

Consume adequate amounts of high value protein foods, such as fresh and canned fish, tuna in oil, sardines, mackerel, meat, poultry and nonfat milk and cottage cheese.

Leave the visible fat of the meat on your plate. Bake, roast, broil or boil your meats, poultry and fish.

Restrict use of butter or mar-

The Nation Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—The main point in this country's meeting with its allies in Paris next week is not whether President Eisenhower can go there but what this country has to offer there in the way of ideas.

This government—judging from reports leaking out on the administration's thinking—isn't going to propose anything very new, bold or imaginative to its partners in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Secretary of State Dulles, starting to prepare for this meeting a month ago, looked around for some new and dramatic concept to strengthen the alliance. It is understood he didn't find what he sought.

Yet this NATO meeting comes at a moment of utmost seriousness for the Western Allies and at a time when reports from Europe indicate a dwindling faith in Eisenhower's leadership and Dulles' ability.

Eisenhower doctors, checking him over today, will determine whether he has recovered enough from his mild stroke to make the trip. If the answer is no, Vice President Nixon no doubt will go in Eisenhower's place. Eisenhower's appearance in Paris, besides testifying to his quick recovery, might provide some dramatic color to the meeting and demonstrate his realization of its importance.

But if he goes to Paris, and then because of his health, has to restrict his activity, it might in the end be more effective if Nixon, physically able to devote full time to the problems, went instead.

The Russians' Sputniks, startling evidence of Russia's scientific progress, shocked the West Europeans, who live next door to the Soviets and would be in range of Russian intermediate range missiles if war began. This is disturbing.

So is their realization of the progress the Russians have been making in the Middle East—Europe's main oil source—at a time when Western influence has been decaying there.

In addition there have been splits among the Allies. For example: between the French and their American and British friends over arms shipments to Tunisia, next door to Algeria where France is fighting revolt.

This country reportedly has rejected any plan for working with NATO to win the Middle East from Russia with a broad, Allied economic plan although the United States next year plans to step up foreign aid worldwide.

Nor is likely this country will offer anything in the way of pulling the West Europeans closer together politically. Apparently the main American proposals will be military. For example:

Trying to get the allies to let this country have bases for missiles which could offset a Russian missile threat, although the American missiles can't be delivered to Europe before 1958.

Dope Charges Against Actor Are Dismissed

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Marijuana possession charges have been dismissed against actor Scott Brady and film press agent Desmond Slattery.

Brady and Slattery had defied police charges that narcotics officers had found two marijuana cigarettes when they raided the actor's home in the Hollywood Hills last Oct. 17.

200,000-Student Pool For Science Claimed

DALLAS (AP)—A manpower specialist says the nation, can turn out scientists and technicians to meet the Soviet challenge. One source, said John Hillard, is the estimated 200,000 able students who fail to go on to college each year. Hillard is assistant director of manpower for the Office of Defense Mobilization.

"Punctuality," sighed Mr. Murgatroyd. "The thief of pleasure. Why must everything be done on time? Why must Christmas gifts arrive by Dec. 25? Why must everybody celebrate Christmas the same day anyhow? Why not a dozen Christmases? A hundred?"

Big Jobs for the Experts

A fellow was telling me at great length how quite a successful and distinguished citizen would never have got to first base had it not been for a fairly well-known public relations counsel who "made him." There being a difference in age and achievement between the successful and distinguished citizen and the well-known public relations counsel, I asked who made the former before he met the latter.

Always when a politician emerges to distinction, the stories go the rounds about who made him. For instance, Louis Howe made Frank D. Roosevelt, but once made he continued on after Howe died.

In fact, Roosevelt survived politically his original brain trust consisting of Raymond Moley, Rexford Tugwell, A. A. Berle, Jr.; he survived Tommy Corcoran and Ben Cohen; he survived James A. Farley; he survived Hugh Johnson. I often wondered who made him what he was, for better or for worse.

A friend of mine recently changed jobs, and I heard of half a dozen men who accepted responsibility for the change. As I happened to know, none of them were consulted about it, none of them knew the facts, none of them had any rights in the matter. But they liked to take the bows and the credit. It added to their ego.

It is like doctors who are forbidden in this country to advertise but who are not forbidden to give the impression of esoteric knowledge amounting almost to the miraculous.

Since I have had the second most publicized heart attack in the United States, I have been importuned by friends and others to go to this doctor or that, each one being the very top man in his profession.

Ike, I am sure, is safeguarded from this, but it has always reminded me of how German doctors used to treat rich Chinese in Shanghai:

"Ach ja," the doctor would say

pompously, "What you have only five men in the world can cure. I am one of the five, naturally. However, if you do not trust me, I can recommend Herr Professor Doktor Sauerbraten of Hamburg who has a clinic for such diseases."

The disease was over-eating and one of its consequences, indigestion.

This doctor did not need a press agent to make him. He did it all himself with great care. The formula was not unusual. The cure was usually efficacious, some form of bicarbonate of soda, put together under a brand name. The result: the doctor got rich.

Making men is an old profession but current manifestations are new. "Had I but served my God with half the zeal I served my King," said Cardinal Wolsey of Henry VIII. However, Henry survived and proceeded onward after his maker dropped dead.

It is not all ingratitude either, for sometimes the makee gets very tired of being told that he has no talent, no ability, no genius but somehow got to the top of his line despite all his disabilities because somebody who never did much for himself, made him. Why did not the universal maker achieve something on his own?

There is big money in this "making" business. One way to do it is to create unpleasant situations, to stir up suspicions and hatreds, to accelerate strife, and then to offer one's services for pay to straighten things out.

By George Sokolsky

This is a specialty of some lawyers who know how to walk both sides of the street without slipping. A combination of a lawyer and a public relations counsel, perhaps with a so-called investment broker, can throw a business into turmoil and open the door to raiders and take-over artists, which no matter how you look at it, can be profitable even if only to be bought off.

Some school of business administration or a school of journalism might give a course in this art. I think I could recommend the professors, great artists at making a buck out of starting rows and then hiring themselves out to one side or the other.

It is curious how often the same names come up in these transactions. Naturally, there are always experts in every field and the big jobs go to the experts.

That is how Murder Inc. got started—that is, by the big jobs going to the experts.

A KENTUCKY horse fancier admitted he was so anxious for his new hopeful to win his first race, he surreptitiously fed it six mint juleps in the paddock.

"Did it go out to win?" asked a friend. "No," admitted the owner, "he came in last. But he sure was the happiest horse in the race!"

At a big auto show, a dealer saw a man consult the price tag on a new model, smile happily, and summon his wife. The dealer hastily explained, "That price tag, you must realize, covers only the federal, state, county and city taxes. The price of the car is additional."

A gentleman had finished dinner in an expensive 52nd street restaurant when he was horrified to discover he didn't have enough money with him to pay the bill and customary tip. "Don't let that upset you," soothed the understanding waiter. "I'll just add up your bill again."

Diet and Health Limit Fatty Foods To Keep Family Well

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

You can do a lot to protect your family's health right at the dinner table.

Heart disease, you have been advised time and time again, is the nation's number one killer as far as diseases are concerned. Some 400,000 Americans are stricken every year.

We've long recognized the fact that the principal villain in the heart disease picture is cholesterol. This is a fatty alcohol which enters our blood through the foods we eat, primarily fatty foods.

It is part of the fatty compounds which we call beta-lipoproteins. This element gathers on the walls of the arteries and gradually closes them off, making it more and more difficult for the heart to circulate the blood.

We eat an average of 1,995 meals a year, give or take a few. And how often do we eat fatty foods at these meals? See the connection?

Dr. Norman Jolliffe, famed New York nutritionist, places the responsibility for stamping out a large percentage of heart disease squarely upon the housewife.

As a guide for planning more healthy menus, he lists the following rules:

Consume adequate amounts of high value protein foods, such as fresh and canned fish, tuna in oil, sardines, mackerel, meat, poultry and nonfat milk and cottage cheese.

Leave the visible fat of the meat on your plate. Bake, roast, broil or boil your meats, poultry and fish.

Restrict use of butter or mar-

The Nation Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—The main point in this country's meeting with its allies in Paris next week is not whether President Eisenhower can go there but what this country has to offer there in the way of ideas.

This government—judging from reports leaking out on the administration's thinking—isn't going to propose anything very new, bold or imaginative to its partners in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Secretary of State Dulles, starting to prepare for this meeting a month ago, looked around for some new and dramatic concept to strengthen the alliance. It is understood he didn't find what he sought.

Yet this NATO meeting comes at a moment of utmost seriousness for the Western Allies and at a time when reports from Europe indicate a dwindling faith in Eisenhower's leadership and Dulles' ability.

Eisenhower doctors, checking him over today, will determine whether he has recovered enough from his mild stroke to make the trip. If the answer is no, Vice President Nixon no doubt will go in Eisenhower's place.

Eisenhower's appearance in Paris, besides testifying to his quick recovery, might provide some dramatic color to the meeting and demonstrate his realization of its importance.

But if he goes to Paris, and then because of his health, has to restrict his activity, it might in the end be more effective if Nixon, physically able to devote full time to the problems, went instead.

The Russians' Sputniks, startling evidence of Russia's scientific progress, shocked the West Europeans, who live next door to the Soviets and would be in range of Russian intermediate range missiles if war began. This is disturbing.

So is their realization of the progress the Russians have been making in the Middle East—Europe's main oil source—at a time when Western influence has been decaying there.

In addition there have been splits among the Allies. For example: between the French and their American and British friends over arms shipments to Tunisia, next door to Algeria where France is fighting revolt.

This country reportedly has rejected any plan for working with NATO to win the Middle East from Russia with a broad, Allied economic plan although the United States next year plans to step up foreign aid worldwide.

Nor is likely this country will offer anything in the way of pulling the West Europeans closer together politically. Apparently the main American proposals will be military. For example:

Trying to get the allies to let this country have bases for missiles which could offset a Russian missile threat, although the American missiles can't be delivered to Europe before 1958.

One source, said John Hillard, is the estimated 200,000 able students who fail to go on to college each year. Hillard is assistant director of manpower for the Office of Defense Mobilization.

Round about Fayette County

By B. F. KELLEY

Fancy a flower blooming freely in eight inches of snow and in temperatures "all down toward zero?" That could only be the "Christmas Rose," or Christmas herb, or Christmas flower, or black hellebore (helleborus niger) as it is variously called. It is of European origin.

The largest clump of this somewhat rare flower that I have ever seen is growing near the east side of the Good Hope Postoffice building, and is owned by Postmaster Walter M. Free.

The large Christmas rose, so called because it usually is in bloom during the Christmas season, now contains upward of 75 blossoms, some of which are two inches across. The blossoms, on thick, fleshy stems, are nearly white with golden centers, and have a faint fragrance.

Walter's Christmas rose started blooming about Nov. 15 and is still going strong. The plant is not more than 10 inches to one foot in height, and is more than a foot across.

I could not see all of the plant when Walter, scraped away enough of the deep snow to show part of it, and gave me one of the large blossoms.

There are several of the plants in the city and county and for years I had one on my premises which usually bloomed early in November and until around January 1.

YATESVILLE QUARTET

During the last few years of the 19th century, four young men in the Yatesville community formed a vocal quartet and for several years their services were such in demand at various gatherings. They were a popular attraction during the red-hot presidential campaign waged by William McKinley and William Jennings Bryan in 1896, when the gold standard was advocated by the Republicans and free silver by the Democrats.

The quartet was composed of Albert and Amos Whiteside, Selton (Ted) Tway, and Edward Durlinger, and it is recalled that one of their favorite songs was "Bulldog on the Bank."

During the presidential campaign the quartet picked up quite a bit of money singing at campaign meetings throughout the area.

One of their campaign songs included the words: "McKinley on the Bank and Bryan in the pool, and McKinley called Bryan an old free silver fool." There was also a song featuring the campaign slogan "16 to One."

David Whiteside, Common Pleas Court bailiff, recalls that during a campaign meeting at Yatesville, in 1896, Attorney Charles A. Reid, (later Common Pleas Court Judge) was a candidate for prosecuting attorney, and in his speech he declared:

"If you have one patch on the seat of your pants now, you will have 16 there if Bryan is elected!"

OFF OF MISSOURI CORN

P. N. Crago, who lives five miles southeast of Good Hope, is a firm believer in home grown corn for seed, and is particularly not in favor of ever again trying Missouri corn for seed.

During a conversation recently he recalled that when the big blizzard struck in December of 1917 and the mercury went far below zero, much of the corn grown in this area was frozen because of late maturity which left much moisture in the grains.

He had some corn that was covered with snow for 63 days, and was induced to try corn imported from Missouri for his 1918 crop.

However he planted some corn carefully selected from the home-grown corn, and found it did very well.

The Missouri corn produced large stalks but the sizeable cobs contained only a few kernels, and most of the corn was never husked.

As I remember, it was the same year that two carloads of New York corn was shipped here for use as seed, and it was inferior to the Fayette-grown corn.

While much of the home grown corn would not germinate, some did, and little of the New York corn was ever saved for seed.

Practically all of the farmers wanted seed from Fayette County which had long been superior to much of the corn grown elsewhere, and they obtained it for the next crop.

CRANBERRIES ABUNDANT

Indications are that the carry-over of cranberries from the Thanksgiving feasting will continue for several months, inasmuch as the total production in the nation this year was approximately 1,037,000 barrels.

Of this amount, 56 per cent, or 585,000 barrels; was produced in Massachusetts where the industry has been promoted into big business.

The remainder of the big crop of cranberries came from four other states—Wisconsin, 260,000 barrels; Washington, 80,000 barrels; New Jersey, 70,000 barrels and Oregon, 42,000 barrels.

It is not generally known that some cranberries grow in the bogs at Buckeye Lake, but the crop is negligible.

Picking cranberries is now done almost exclusively by machinery, and starts in Massachusetts in September.

Not only are huge quantities of the berries marketed in their natural state, but large amounts are processed into jelly, and others are frozen. It is now possible to buy cranberries in some form throughout the year.

The Indians, who gave us corn, also gathered cranberries and dried them for winter.

Second Try Gets Results

CLEVELAND (AP) — An ex-convict who likes jail so well he steals to get back into it had to try twice before a federal judge would accommodate him.

Howard W. Schaffer, a transient who has spent 25 of his 31 years behind bars, was given a suspended sentence and fined $100 for stealing a letter from the mails. Balked at this attempt to land in jail, he went out the next day, stole another letter from a rural mailbox and triumphantly gave it unopened to police.

This time Federal Judge Paul C. Weick obligingly gave him three years.

Sleeps It Off In Wrong Place

COLUMBUS, Miss. (AP) — Arthur Hicks made two mistakes when he crawled into an automobile to sleep off a little too much Saturday night merry making.

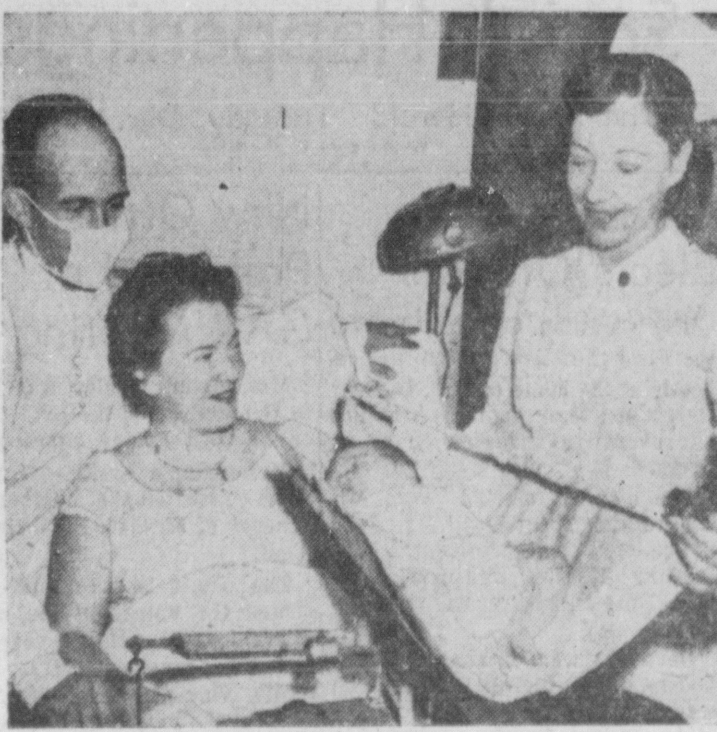

Police said the automobile he chose was parked on the police department parking lot and belonged to the department's janitor, Mike Hill.

Hill found Hicks in his car and police charged him with public drunkenness.

Treated Posts In Good Shape

FORT COLLINS, Colo. (AP) — Ten red cedar fence posts set into the ground at the Agronomy Farm at Colorado State University in 1917 are still in good condition after 40 years.

Delta Kappa Gamma Society Holds Annual Christmas Party

The annual Christmas party of the Alpha Delta Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma was held in the Country Club Friday night.

The decorations were literally "out of this world" with a "Space" theme carried throughout the club lounge in sparkling satellites, planets, stars, rockets and space ships. Frosty spheres covering tiny, soft colored lights running the length of the snowy white tables gave an ethereal glow to the room. A large tree sparkling with lights in the alcove and a smaller white one in the foyer created an atmosphere of holiday cheer.

Formal initiation ceremonies of the national honorary society in education were impressively read to two new members. Mrs. Clark Pensyl and Mrs. George Pensyl. The ceremonial table, with its symbols, lighted candles, and American Beauty roses, carried out the fraternity's colors of red and gold. Mrs. Ralph Child, president, conducted the ceremonies, assisted by Mrs. Charles Pensyl, chairman of the initiation, and her committee members. Miss Marjorie Evans, Mrs. Paul Davis, Mrs. Mary Gillespie and Miss Margaret Gibson. The ceremony closed with the singing of the national Delta Kappa Gamma song by the assemblage with Mrs. L. F. Everhart at the piano.

An informal reception was held for the new members followed by a delicious turkey dinner. Preceding the seating of the guests, the Christmas Prayer by St. Francis of Assisi was read by Miss Golda Baughn. The guests found lovely favors at their places, compliments of Mrs. Child and Mrs. Frank Mayo. Gifts from the committee were cleverly wrapped in the shape of space ships and rockets. During the hour of visiting at the tables, Happy Birthday was sung to three of the members, Miss Baughn, Miss Gladys Nelson and Miss Ruth Stecher.

The members assembled in a circle for a brief program and social hour. Miss Stecher read a poem entitled "True Christmas," by Mary Hester Bean. She knew the author personally, which made the reading even more interesting. Miss Kathleen Davis led the group in singing carols and Christmas songs. Mrs. Everhart accompanied the singing with piano music.

The climax of the social hour was the exchange of the gaily wrapped gifts which were placed under the Christmas tree.

The Christmas committee, Mrs. N. M. Reiff, chairman, and the social committee, Mrs. L. F. Everhart, chairman, were responsible for the lovely party and the unique and beautiful decorations. Other members who assisted were Miss Priscilla White, Mrs. Edna Watts, Miss Bess Bruce Cleveland, Mrs. Mary Gillespie and Miss Kathleen Davis.

PURSE FLACON of lavender flower, coin dispenser.

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Beauty Editor

If that girl in your life has her heart set on a fragrance, don't disappoint her. Some men think that perfume is a frivolous indulgence. But it isn't so. A woman who wants perfume thinks of it usually as an accessory to her wardrobe.

You probably can get her favorite scent in the quantity you can afford. If not, perhaps toilet water or cologne will solve your shopping problem.

There are gimmick-type gifts too, that fall into the perfume category. That may do as surprise additions.

TIE TO THE TREE a smart gold metal purse flacon of a lavender floral scent. It has a coin dispenser at the base, and comes with a tiny refilling funnel. Or give her an atomizer that is especially designed to protect perfume from evaporation and change.

Perfume will give her more mileage than other fragrances, of course, although the initial investment sometimes seems overwhelming to the budget.

A light, long-lasting scent, goes a long way. One available in a metered spray gives some 200 applications in the smallest bottle.

Supper Enjoyed By Church Class

A potluck supper was enjoyed by the Golden Rule Class of the Bloomingburg Methodist Church Sunday night in the church basement. Twenty-six members, 15 children and two guests, Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel Tway, were present.

Mr. Roy Coe Jr., president, conducted the meeting, and devotions were led by Mr. Wilbur Rapp who read "The Christmas Story," closing with prayer.

Plans were made to fill a Christmas basket to be given away at Christmas time. The business meeting was closed with a Christmas carol.

Mr. and Mrs. Tway showed films on their recent tour of the Southern states.

The hosts and hostesses for the evening were Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Rapp, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cunningham, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Redd and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Melburn.

Delta Kappa Gamma Society Holds Annual Christmas Party

The annual Christmas party of the Alpha Delta Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma was held in the Country Club Friday night.

The decorations were literally "out of this world" with a "Space" theme carried throughout the club lounge in sparkling satellites, planets, stars, rockets and space ships. Frosty spheres covering tiny, soft colored lights running the length of the snowy white tables gave an ethereal glow to the room. A large tree sparkling with lights in the alcove and a smaller white one in the foyer created an atmosphere of holiday cheer.

State School Board Studies Transfer of Whitehall Area

COLUMBUS, Ohio (U.P.)—Transfer of a portion of the Whitehall school district to the Columbus district was delayed Monday by the State School Board, but there may be further consideration before the end of the month.

After the board delayed action on the transfer, it indicated it may hold a special meeting before the end of December.

Harrison Smith Jr., counsel for Columbus public schools, insisted that the transfer must be made by Jan. 1 to save Franklin County, Columbus and Whitehall schools more than one million dollars in an adjustment of tax rates. The state superintendent of schools, E. E. Holt, recommended that the transfer be approved.

A ruling by Atty. Gen. William Saxbe stated that the State School Board has a "duty" to approve the transfer.

In other actions, the board:

Turned down the requested transfer of territory from Howland local school district in Trumbull County to the Warren city school district. Investigators found only four children in the 86-acre tract which contains a housing development and a shopping center.

Witnessed the swearing in of Edward C. Ames of Toledo as a new member to succeed Joseph D. Stecher, who resigned.

Approved requirements for teacher certification.

Approved 42 one-teacher and 94 two-teacher elementary schools for state aid subsidy calculations.

Approved high school charters for 17 private and parochial schools.

Approved a recommended grant of $389,520 in state aid to Rock Hill local district in Lawrence County for a new high school and elementary buildings.

Asked Holt to make a further study of the request for a charter for a junior high school in the Streetsboro district in Portage County after Holt recommended it be denied.

The prairie chicken people, eyeing the achievement of the whooping crane people, are beginning to figure that one way to lick a specific wildlife problem is to put it on a stamp.

The whooping cranes were the subject of a stamp put on sale last month by the Post Office Department as one in a conservation series. With the wild whooper population down to something under 30, the big birds are in somewhat the same position as a man who sticks around long enough to see his own headstone engraved.

Prairie chickens, however, are another thing. Although Old Yellow Legs is perilously close to the remnant stage there still are more left than there were whooping cranes to begin with.

Harry Walker of Plainfield, Wis., in the heart of the upper midwest's greatest remaining prairie grouse area, is credited with the stamp idea. Walker had a certain professional advantage in the matter—he's the Plainfield postmaster.

Anyway, the project now has been picked up by the National Wildlife Federation and has acquired a spokesman in Congress in the person of Sen. Proxmire of Wisconsin.

Wildlife managers in most states with important surviving flocks already have decided to pool research information and plans. More than 50 experts from Colorado, Illinois, Iowa, Kansas, Minnesota, Missouri, Nebraska, Oklahoma, South Dakota and Wisconsin have formed the National Committee on the Prairie Chicken.

114 Court Cases Pending on Dec. 1

A total of 114 cases were pending in Fayette County Common Pleas Court on Dec. 1, four fewer than on Nov. 1 and four more than on Oct. 1.

Forty-nine of the pending cases are miscellaneous civil actions, 43 are domestic relations matters and 22 are criminal cases.

Eight new actions, five of them involving domestic relations and three criminal cases, were added in November to the October carry-over.

Twelve cases were disposed of during the month—five of them domestic relations actions and seven general civil actions. One was tried to a jury, five to the court and six were settled and dismissed. Eighteen cases were disposed of in October.

Twelve Fayette County cases were still pending in the Second District Court of Appeals at the end of November. There were no new appellate cases filed during the month and no dispositions.

Next Songfest To Be on Dec. 27

Sidlight Features To Be Gift Exchange

What has come to be known by scores of people who like to sing as the "holiday songfest" will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Wipert on the CCC Highway, west, on Dec. 27 this year. It is scheduled to start at 7:30 p. m.

The "holiday songfest" has developed into something special during the years. First of all, most of the songs are those always popular at the Yuletide and, second, one the sidlight features is a "white elephant gift exchange."

This kind of gift exchange is possible only after Christmas, because everyone brings a gift received for Christmas—usually, one that was the wrong size or color, or perhaps something which did not strike personal fancy.

The gifts are carefully wrapped and placed under the songfest Christmas tree and handed out in a "blind" exchange. The exchange is by no means binding on the recipient; it is permissible to exchange the gifts again and again until everyone is satisfied, theoretically at least.

The "holiday songfest" is held after Christmas and before New Year's to fill in that sometimes slack time of the season—and to make possible the "white elephant gift exchange."

There was no songfest in November, but at the October meeting, the songfesters, by majority vote, decided to hold the December meeting and gift exchange Dec. 27.

While most of the songs will be the old favorites of Christmas-time, there also will be others, depending on the requests, which always govern the program selections.

There is a possibility that the group—or at least some in it—may go through the countryside caroling during the holidays. Some voted for the suggestion at the October meeting, others did not. Mrs. Wipert, co-ordinator of the songfest, said that if those who want to go out and sing carols will call her, she will make the arrangements.

Surplus military weapons, including flares and grenades, are used by the U. S. Fish and Wildlife service to scare off crop-devouring birds.

Christmas Lighting Contest In Making at New Holland

NEW HOLLAND. A contest designed to encourage people of New Holland to decorate their homes at Christmastime is taking definite form under the triple sponsorship of the New Holland Lions Club, Garden Club and American Legion post. Bob Lewis, the joint committee chairman, said.

Lewis said general plans for the project have been outlined and that details will be worked out at a committee meeting, probably later this week.

The committee, he said, already has decided to have out-of-town judges pick the best decorated homes. It also has agreed that the judging will be done the night of Dec. 23 and that cash awards will be made.

Lewis, who represents the Lions Club on the committee, said he had been given the views of many club members at the club's annual Christmas Ladies Night dance last Thursday in the American Legion Hall. These will be passed along to the committee when it meets to make the final arrangements.

MORE THAN 80 per cent of the Lions Club members—and their ladies—were at the dance, which followed the customary banquet.

Robert Bush, president, and Donald Adams, dance committee chairman, commented that the 80 per cent attendance at the dance was not surprising, because the New Holland club has had the best attendance in the district in recent months.

In keeping with the custom of these Christmas parties for the Lionsesses, the ladies were presented gifts by the club.

Whole Family Now Takes to Railroading

By DOROTHY ROE

Don't be surprised if you see Mom and Sis working on the railroad this Christmas, along with Pop and Junior. The model train fan club now takes in all the family, with the introduction of a new pastel-colored electric trains designed especially for girls.

The toy train empire this year includes blueprint-perfect replicas of 26 of the nation's leading railroads, as manufacturers of real railroad equipment supply the toy train makers with specifications for new models long before they are actually in service. So when ever you see a brand new loco motive or a new type train streaking across country, you can be sure it has a toyland replica in miniature.

In addition to the trains themselves, there are many new accessories to supply thrills for the young railroader. There's a remote controlled illuminated dispatching board with an attendant who hurries across a catwalk in front of the board and changes train arrivals and departures. There's a news stand with a dealer who moves back and forth at the flick of a button while a newsboy sells his papers and a miniature pup chases his tail around a fire hydrant. There's an operating fork lift platform with a truck that loads and unloads boards from a lumber car.

One company puts out a "how to do" booklet to encourage Mom to landscape the toy train right-of-way. It explains how to use coffee grounds mixed with varnish to simulate a plowed field, how to make bushes and trees from tinted sponges, how to make lakes and rivers from clear plastic.

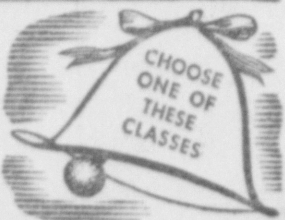

This year the electric train layout has become a family project.

How To Go Shopping For a Christmas Bike

One of life's biggest thrills for a girl or boy is to find a shiny new bicycle in front of the tree on Christmas morning.

Choosing the right bicycle is a big assignment, especially if the task is left to Mom. There are new gadgets and improvements every year, and each child has his own ideas as to just what kind of bike he wants, so it's wise to do a little advance sleuthing before setting out to make the purchase.

The first and most important point is to be sure that the right size bicycle is chosen for the right age.

All American bikes come in four basic sizes depending on the wheel diameter. If the child is between 3 and 5 years old, get him a 16-inch bike with "outrigger" wheels which can be removed when he learns to balance.

best, and for boys and girls 11 years old and over, the full-size 26-inch bike is right.

Next comes the question of what type of bike to buy.

Currently most popular is the new middleweight bicycle, introduced only two years ago in America and expected to account for nearly 90 per cent of bicycle sales this Christmas.

The middleweight was designed to combine the best features of both the lightweight racing bike and the heavy balloon-tired model.

Its features include new lighter cantilever frame, multi-speed power brake and gear shift and tire size, giving it all the speed and ease of the lightweight bike. Its rugged construction, however, has the important strength and durability characteristic of heavy balloon-tired bike.

FOR CHILDREN from 5 to 7, a 20-inch bike is correct. For 8 to 10-year-olds, the 24-inch bike is

In addition to new bicycle models, there are dozens of new accessories, including many kinds of warning devices, horns and bells, colored tires, sealed beam headlights, special shock absorbers built in locks and speedometers.

There are cameras and radios especially designed to be attached to the bike.

A recent survey of bicycle dealers shows that youngsters consider the most important accessories to be: plastic or wire basket, tools, speedometer, saddle bags and bicycle lock.

2 Newcomers In Plastics Getting Study

Latest Products Sure
To Play Havoc with
Competitive Setup

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP)—Two newcomers are stepping out in the competitive race within the still growing plastic industry.

Latest is a jawbreaker, Polypropylene, which the Hercules Powder Co. here and the Montecatini chemical firm in Italy are putting on the market. It is akin to the fastest growing plastic of all, polyethylene, which you know as a cover for meat and vegetables and as a squeeze bottle.

Hercules is starting production of polypropylene at a Parlin, N.J., plant with a 20 million pound annual capacity. The initial price is 65 cents a pound, with hopes of a less costly product later through production economies. Other American companies are known to be considering jumping into the field through the patent license route.

The new plastic, made from a byproduct of gasoline refining, melts at high temperatures but retains its strength at temperatures well above the boiling point of water. Possible uses: in pipes, molded auto parts and appliances.

Earlier in the year Celanese Corp. of America began producing in Houston the other new plastic, variously known as linear, high density or low pressure polyethylene. It says the newcomer, now being made in commercial or pilot form by 13 other companies, exceeds the older high pressure polyethylene in rigidity, strength and heat resistance. For example, a baby's bottle made of the old type melts in hot water. Made of the new it doesn't.

The newcomer is now showing up in the consumer market in some housewares and toys. The low pressure variety also aims at pipes and fittings, cable insulation, auto parts, industrial housings, and even panels for house walls and curtain walls for skyscrapers.

Present capacity for making the low pressure variety is 250 million pounds a year and the price is 47 cents a pound, which may be lowered with mass production.

There are several patented processes for making the low pressure type.

Both Celanese and Bakelite Division of Union Carbide use one developed by Phillips Chemical, as does Phillips and W. R. Grace & Co.

Dow Chemical, Du Pont, Hercules Powder, Koppers and Monsanto Chemical have licenses for the Ziegler process developed in Germany, and Bakelite also is in on this.

Indiana Standard Oil has a third process which it also has licensed to Eastman Chemical Products and Spencer Chemical.

Three companies—Allied Chemical, Du Pont and National Petrochemicals—have processes of their own.

Farm Outlook Parley Slated

Friday the thirteenth has been set as the date for the annual Outlook Conference sponsored by County Agent W. W. Montgomery with the cooperation of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Ohio State University and the Fayette commissioners.

The conference will get under way at 1:30 p. m. at the Farm Bureau auditorium. Lyle Barnes, extension economist, will lead the discussion and will present the predicted outlook for the coming year.

All county businessmen and farmers are invited to attend the conference.

'Big Sister' Program Aids Newcomers to Capital Jobs

By JANE EADS
WASHINGTON (AP)—Right from the sticks and green, Mrs. Elizabeth Puryear arrived in Washington from North Carolina in 1933 to work as a government employee. Before the end of the first day, she was ready to turn around and head back again.

"About four days of work was laid out for me," she recalled.

"Something was brewing like a hill of ants and the men were all asking for service. I didn't know from nothing what to do."

She learned the hard way. Her

British Stars Defended for Jaunts to U. S.

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Top British star Jack Hawkins, on his first visit to Hollywood, defended the many British stars who have abandoned their native land to seek their fortunes here.

"There is a great deal of damaged pride in England over it," he observed as he breakfasted on an American waffle. "People over there claim actors come here and get ruined."

"Actually, the reverse is often true. Take a girl like Kay Kendall. I knew her well because we were under contract to (J. Arthur) Rank together. She made a terrific hit in a picture called 'Genevieve.' You'd expect her career to boom. But nothing happened. Absolutely nothing."

"She had to come to Hollywood to become a big hit."

"The same thing has happened over and over again, back to the days of Ronald Colman. I remember dear old Willie (Nigel) Bruce, who was around London in plays for years with not too much luck. Then he came to Hollywood and had a rousing success. The same was true of C. Aubrey Smith, who toured the provinces for years in a mystery play."

Hawkins, England's top leading man, said no actor can become an international star without the benefit of American-made productions. He has had them without ever coming to Hollywood. Examples: "The Black Rose," "Land of the Pharaohs."

Now he has his biggest one, "The Bridge over the River Kwai," made by American producer Sam Spiegel with an international cast and crew.

early experience, and that of many other G-girls, pointed out the necessity for some "kind of program to acquaint a newcomer with what she was required to do in her job." In the U. S. Forestry Service, where she became head of the stenographic division, Mrs. Puryear began setting up a training group and for many years has been the agency's counselor for women secretarial workers. Then in 1940 under a program called the "Orientation Plan for Washington Office Girls," Forestry initiated a "sponsor program."

The sponsor serves as "Big Sister" to the newcomer during induction training, Mrs. Puryear explains.

The plan has been adopted by other bureaus of the Department of Agriculture and agencies of the government.

"The first purpose of the sponsor program," Mrs. Puryear told me, "is to keep a new girl from feeling like a little pebble in a big puddle. The program makes a girl feel she's a part of the organization immediately."

The sponsors committee is made up of about six women selected from various departments of the Washington office of the forestry service to serve for two years.

Sponsors with kindred interests and of the same age group are selected to extend a helping hand to each new girl coming to work for the service. The sponsor takes the girl to lunch, shows her how to find her way around the 12 miles of Agriculture's corridors, shows her how to get around town on a street car, or bus, gives her an organization chart with pictures of the Forestry Service's chief, R. E. McArdle, eight assistant chiefs, 24 division directors, 10 regional directors and 12 station directors, as well as an explanation of major activities.

"That's so she'll know what's what and who's who," says Mrs. Puryear.

Hobby Club Yule Party Set Friday

The Christmas party of the Fayette Hobby Club will be held at the City Building at 6:30 p. m. Friday, President Rosecoe Whitehead announced Tuesday.

Official Rule On Candidates Being Sought

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Secretary of State Ted W. Brown said today he will ask an official ruling on the question of whether candidates elected last Nov. 5 are barred from taking office if they failed to file campaign expense statements before the deadline.

Brown said earlier he would request an informal opinion from Atty. Gen. William Saxbe, but changed the request to a formal ruling because of the number of candidates who failed to file statements before the deadline at 4 p. m. last Thursday. The change in plans may delay an answer to the question for several days, he added.

A new law, effective Sept. 16, requires candidates to report expenses within 30 days to obtain certificates of election necessary for them to take office. The law also prevents both successful and unsuccessful candidates from running for office for the next five years if they fail to file statements on time.

In Franklin County alone, 51 successful candidates for various local offices failed to file on time. Sixty-six unsuccessful candidates also failed to file. Election officials estimated on that basis that about 1,000 others throughout the state might be similarly affected. But Brown expressed doubt the total would run that high.

Portable buildings supported by air for temporary shelter of construction materials are a recent development. The shelters are made of a waterproof, air-tight, translucent fabric.

Donald Woods Seeking Role As 'Bad Guy' in Movies

NEW YORK (AP)—Did you ever notice that actors who play tough guy roles seem to be more memorable than actors who play nice guys roles?

Look at Humphrey Bogart and Jimmy Cagney and Edward G. Robinson and—the list is considerable.

Donald Woods, who holds something of a record for nice guy roles on television, in the movies and in theatrical road companies, has been pondering this for a long time.

"I want to play tough guy," says Woods. "I want some one to believe that I'm not just a nice guy."

As a very nice guy indeed he is seen every week-day on "Hotel Cosmopolitan" (CBS-TV, noon, EST). He also has been and is seen frequently on numerous dramatic shows—always as a nice guy, however.

A fellow who was discussing this situation with Woods the other day at the Lambs Club suggested that Woods overturn the table, pretended to slug him and he would fall. This episode might then be described by a syndicated columnist and a new Woods would emerge to the public.

Woods, looking slightly shocked, replied, "But the Lambs Club would bar me for three months."

He began playing good guy roles in the 1930's in Hollywood movies. In 1946 he came to New York and began working in television.

Not long ago he said, a viewer stopped to tell him, "Last night I saw you on CBS, ABC and NBC."

It was true. One of his old movies was being rerun on ABC-TV. He was appearing in a live drama on NBC-TV. On CBS-TV there was a rerun of one of his former programs.

On each channel, of course, Woods was playing a good guy.

"The Nicest Way To Say Merry Christmas."

2 Newcomers In Plastics Getting Study

Latest Products Sure
To Play Havoc with
Competitive Setup

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP)—Two newcomers are stepping out in the competitive race within the still growing plastic industry.

Latest is a jawbreaker, Polypropylene, which the Hercules Powder Co. here and the Montecatini chemical firm in Italy are putting on the market. It is akin to the fastest growing plastic of all, polyethylene, which you know as a cover for meat and vegetables and as a squeeze bottle.

Hercules is starting production of polypropylene at a Parlin, N.J., plant with a 20 million pound annual capacity. The initial price is 65 cents a pound, with hopes of a less costly product later through production economies. Other American companies are known to be considering jumping into the field through the patent license route.

The new plastic, made from a byproduct of gasoline refining, melts at high temperatures but retains its strength at temperatures well above the boiling point of water. Possible uses: in pipes, molded auto parts and appliances.

Earlier in the year Celanese Corp. of America began producing in Houston the other new plastic, variously known as linear, high density or low pressure polyethylene. It says the newcomer, now being made in commercial or pilot form by 13 other companies, exceeds the older high pressure polyethylene in rigidity, strength and heat resistance. For example, a baby's bottle made of the old type melts in hot water. Made of the new it doesn't.

The newcomer is now showing up in the consumer market in some housewares and toys. The low pressure variety also aims at pipes and fittings, cable insulation, auto parts, industrial housings, and even panels for house walls and curtain walls for skyscrapers.

Present capacity for making the low pressure variety is 250 million pounds a year and the price is 47 cents a pound, which may be lowered with mass production.

There are several patented processes for making the low pressure type.

Both Celanese and Bakelite Division of Union Carbide use one developed by Phillips Chemical, as does Phillips and W. R. Grace & Co.

Dow Chemical, Du Pont, Hercules Powder, Koppers and Monsanto Chemical have licenses for the Ziegler process developed in Germany, and Bakelite also is in on this.

Indiana Standard Oil has a third process which it also has licensed to Eastman Chemical Products and Spencer Chemical.

Three companies—Allied Chemical, Du Pont and National Petrochemicals—have processes of their own.

Farm Outlook Parley Slated

Friday the thirteenth has been set as the date for the annual Outlook Conference sponsored by County Agent W. W. Montgomery with the cooperation of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Ohio State University and the Fayette commissioners.

The conference will get under way at 1:30 p. m. at the Farm Bureau auditorium. Lyle Barnes, extension economist, will lead the discussion and will present the predicted outlook for the coming year.

All county businessmen and farmers are invited to attend the conference.

'Big Sister' Program Aids Newcomers to Capital Jobs

By JANE EADS
WASHINGTON (AP)—Right from the sticks and green, Mrs. Elizabeth Puryear arrived in Washington from North Carolina in 1933 to work as a government employee. Before the end of the first day, she was ready to turn around and head back again.

"About four days' of work was laid out for me," she recalled. "Something was brewing like a hill of ants and the men were all asking for service. I didn't know from nothing what to do."

She learned the hard way. Her

British Stars Defended for Jaunts to U. S.

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Top British star Jack Hawkins, on his first visit to Hollywood, defended the many British stars who have abandoned their native land to seek their fortunes here.

"There is a great deal of damaged pride in England over it," he observed as he breakfasted on an American waffle. "People over there claim actors come here and get ruined."

"Actually, the reverse is often true. Take a girl like Kay Kendall. I knew her well because we were under contract to (J. Arthur) Rank together. She made a terrific hit in a picture called 'Genevieve.' You'd expect her career to boom. But nothing happened. Absolutely nothing."

"She had to come to Hollywood to become a big hit."

"The same thing has happened over and over again, back to the days of Ronald Colman. I remember dear old Willie (Nigel) Bruce, who was around London in plays for years with not too much luck. Then he came to Hollywood and had a rousing success. The same was true of C. Aubrey Smith, who toured the provinces for years in a mystery play."

Hawkins, England's top leading man, said no actor can become an international star without the benefit of American-made productions. He has had them without ever coming to Hollywood. Examples: "The Black Rose," "Land of the Pharaohs."

"Now he has his biggest one, 'The Bridge over the River Kwai,' made by American producer Sam Spiegel with an international cast and crew."

early experience, and that of many other G-girls, pointed up the necessity for some "kind of program to acquaint a newcomer with what she was required to do in her job." In the U. S. Forestry Service, where she became head of the stenographic division, Mrs. Puryear began setting up a training group and for many years has been the agency's counselor for women secretarial workers. Then in 1940 under a program called the "Orientation Plan for Washington Office Girls," Forestry initiated a "sponsor program."

The plan has been adopted by other bureaus of the Department of Agriculture and agencies of the government.

of 875 pints have been donated to the blood bank in Columbus, from which the hospital here draws blood for its needs. The quota for the year was 1,050 pints, but Mrs. Chaper noted that, in addition to the direct donations, the epidemic of flu was a factor in reducing the overall total.

Also gratifying, Mrs. Shaper said, were the 44 first donors at the mobile unit here Monday. Many of these were residents of the rural area of the county; this was attributed in part to sponsorship by the Granges of the county.

Of the 156 who offered blood Monday, only four were rejected by the attending physicians. Of those who gave blood, 133 came on appointment and 34 were classed as "walk-ins," those who came without appointment. Fifty pints were designated as replacements.

PHYSICIANS who examined each volunteer donor were Dr. Robert Woodmansee, Dr. Robert Anderson, Dr. E. H. McDonald, Dr. Marvin H. Rossmann, Dr. Byers W. Shaw and Dr. James M. Rose.

Registered nurses who volunteered their help were Mrs. Clara Louise Boren, Mrs. Mary Penton, Mrs. Shaper, Mrs. Susie Helfrich, Mrs. Gale Postmann, Mrs. Kay Gillen and Miss Florence Purcell.

The practical nurses were Mrs. Gertrude Smith, Mrs. Lillie Householder and Mrs. Verna Allen.

The volunteer staff aides, who helped with the detail records, were Mrs. Janet Loachner, Mrs.

Beth Wilson, Mrs. Margaret Kratz, Mrs. Dorothy Hankins, Mrs. Mabel Ellis, Mrs. Ruth Hire, Mrs. Betty Korn, Mrs. Virginia Vollette, Mrs. Rebecca Fults, Mrs. Elizabeth Miller, Mrs. Florence Perrill.

Drivers from the Business and Professional Women's Club were Mrs. Katherine Hyer, Mrs. Edith Theobald, Mrs. Marie Mace and Mrs. Edith Acton.

Contributions of food for the lunches for those had given blood were made by The Pennington Bakery, Sagar Dairy, Midland Grocery Co., City Ice & Fuel Co., Moore's Fruit Market, Selden Grange, American Legion Auxiliary and Mrs. Smith Mace.

152 Pints of Blood Given to Blood Bank Here Monday

10 The Record-Herald Tuesday, Dec. 10, 1957
Washington C. H., Ohio

of 875 pints have been donated to the blood bank in Columbus, from which the hospital here draws blood for its needs. The quota for the year was 1,050 pints, but Mrs. Chaper noted that, in addition to the direct donations, the epidemic of flu was a factor in reducing the overall total.

Also gratifying, Mrs. Shaper said, were the 44 first donors at the mobile unit here Monday. Many of these were residents of the rural area of the county; this was attributed in part to sponsorship by the Granges of the county.

Of the 156 who offered blood Monday, only four were rejected by the attending physicians. Of those who gave blood, 133 came on appointment and 34 were classed as "walk-ins," those who came without appointment. Fifty pints were designated as replacements.

PHYSICIANS who examined each volunteer donor were Dr. Robert Woodmansee, Dr. Robert Anderson, Dr. E. H. McDonald, Dr. Marvin H. Rossmann, Dr. Byers W. Shaw and Dr. James M. Rose.

Registered nurses who volunteered their help were Mrs. Clara Louise Boren, Mrs. Mary Fenton, Mrs. Shaper, Mrs. Susie Helfrich, Mrs. Gale Rossmann, Mrs. Kay Gillen and Miss Florence Purcell.

The practical nurses were Mrs. Gertrude Smith, Mrs. Lillie Householder and Mrs. Verna Allen.

The volunteer staff aides, who helped with the detail records, were Mrs. Janet Louchner, Mrs.

Beth Wilson, Mrs. Margaret Kratz, Mrs. Dorothy Hankins, Mrs. Mabel Ellis, Mrs. Ruth Hire, Mrs. Betty Korn, Mrs. Virginia Vollette, Mrs. Rebecca Fuels, Mrs. Elizabeth Miller, Mrs. Florence Perrill.

Drivers from the Business and Professional Women's Club were Mrs. Katherine Hyer, Mrs. Edith Theobald, Mrs. Marie Mace and Mrs. Edith Acton.

Contributions of food for the lunches for those had given blood were made by The Pennington Bakery, Sagar Dairy, Midland Grocery Co., City Ice & Fuel Co., Moore's Fruit Market, Selden Grange, American Legion Auxiliary and Mrs. Smith Mace.

Redlegs Book 45 of 77 Home Games at Night

Philadelphia Scheduled To Be Foe for Opener In Cincinnati April 15

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Cincinnati Redlegs will play 45 of their 77 home games in the 1958 season at night.

However, that's an increase of only one over the 1957 night program.

The Redleg home schedule, announced today, calls for the season opener against Philadelphia on April 15. It will be something new, of course, for Cincinnati to be opening the season against an eastern club.

A realignment of the National League, brought about by the transfer of the Giants and Dodgers from New York and Brooklyn to San Francisco and Los Angeles, has placed the Reds in the loop's eastern division along with the Phils, Pittsburgh and Milwaukee.

After that traditional home opener, the Reds will be away until April 23 when they will open their night schedule against World Champion Milwaukee. After that, the night games come often.

There will be one string of five in a row in June and another string of six straight later in the same month.

The schedule calls for 12 Sunday dates with doubleheaders being played on 8 of them. The Fourth of July will be the only "at home" holiday for Cincinnati and Pittsburgh will be played that day in a single game.

Milwaukee and San Francisco each will play eight night games here. St. Louis, Los Angeles and Chicago are scheduled for seven night tilts each and Pittsburgh and Philadelphia for four each.

The season will be more than a month old before Cincinnatians see the Giants and Dodgers as representatives of San Francisco and Los Angeles. The Giants will be here May 20 and 21 and the Dodgers for the next three playing dates.

Cincinnati will wind up its home season on Sept. 21 against Milwaukee.

Except for the opening game of the season, all single afternoon games will start at 1:30 p.m. Two-night doubleheaders will start at 6 p.m. and night single games at 8 p.m. The opening game traditionally starts at 2:30 p.m.

Here is the Redlegs' home schedule:

Ryff Finally Wins Without Bleeding

NEW YORK (AP)—Frankie Ryff cheerfully surrendered his "bleeding" championship today to Frankie Ippolito and set his sights on the lightweight title.

For the first time in three years the rangy 25-year-old New Yorker came out of a fight without any cuts over his eyes. Making his first start in eight months, after an operation for removal of scar tissue over both eyes, Ryff easily outpointed and chopped up Ippolito in a 10-rounder here.

Ippolito, a Bronx rival of Ryff's, bled from the nose from two gashes over his left eye. He will require about 10 stitches.

2 of Top 10 Teams Lose First Games

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
No sooner are Frank McGuire's North Carolina Tar Heels tabbed again as the nation's No. 1 team than a flock of potent challengers turn up.

Maryland, bouncing Kentucky 71-62, and Cincinnati, romping 80-57 over a Temple team regarded as about tops in the East, fired the strongest playing-court protests last night to the way the nation's experts rated the teams in the first weekly Associated Press poll of the new campaign.

North Carolina, drawing 41 of 171 first-place votes and 1,018 points, led the first AP reckoning in a close race with Kansas, which drew 34 firsts and 965 points. Rounding out the top 10 were Kentucky, Bradley, Kansas State, San Francisco, Michigan State, West Virginia, St. Louis and Temple—in that order.

The second 10, in order: Minnesota, N. C. State, UCLA, Seattle, Notre Dame, Rice, Syracuse, Oklahoma City, Cincinnati, Memphis State.

Braves Hurling Power Told By Statistics

NEW YORK (AP) — The strength and depth of the Milwaukee Braves' pitching staff and the brilliance of Warren Spahn, their ace lefthander, was emphasized again today with the release of the official National League pitching records for 1957.

The figure: Spahn was voted the Cy Young award as the game's most outstanding pitcher. Warren was the only NL hurler to win 20 games finishing with a 21-11 mark. He also pitched the most complete games, 18 and wound up in a tie for second place in the earned run competition with a 2.69 average.

It was Spahn's eighth 20-game victory campaign and gave him a total of 224 triumphs in 13 seasons with the Braves. He also had four shutouts in '57 to lift his career total to 42.

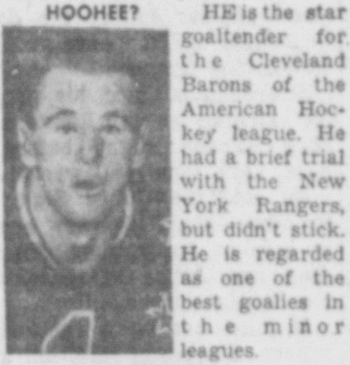

The Braves, who won their first pennant and world championship in Milwaukee, also had the most complete games, 60. Bob Buhl and Lew Burdette chipped in with 14 and 12, respectively.

Don Drysdale of the Dodgers turned in a good effort in his sophomore year. He finished in a dead-heat with Spahn in earned run average and his 17 victories were topped only by Spahn, Jack Sanford of Philadelphia with 19 and Buhl with 18.

Cincinnati '5' Humbles Quint From Temple

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Cincinnati Bearcats, fast becoming one of the nation's most potent basketball teams, roared to their second victory Monday night by defeating 10th ranked Temple 80-57.

The Bearcats' much-lauded sophomore, Oscar Robertson, continued to live up to pre-season praises. The former Indianapolis high school star poured in 36 points hitting 16 of 21 field goal tries and picking off 18 rebounds.

In Cincinnati's previous 105-49 victory over Indiana State, Robertson hit 28 points in the 23 minutes he played.

The Owls, picked as one of the most talent-loaded Eastern teams, were little match for the Bearcats. Temple stayed with Cincinnati until Cincy's Spud Hornsby sank a 22-21 lead, and they thereafter were never headed.

In another game in southwestern Ohio, Miami crushed Heidelberg under a 97-56 score.

The Redskins' big Wayne Embury scored 27 points and matched that figure in rebounds. It was Miami's second victory and the Student Princes' third defeat.

The only other contest in the state saw Rio Grande take its second victory in six starts with a 62-44 win over West Virginia State on the Redmen's home court.

"ALMOST, BUT NOT ENOUGH" is our verdict on how close competitive cars have come to matching the Swept-Wing 58. Take style. Other new cars are "almost" as low in inches, but still seem high and boxy in looks. Some of them are "almost" going to fust, but not enough to really make a difference. Then take performance. None of the other 1958 cars have anything to match the sway-free, dip-free, vibration-free ride of Torsion-Aire. (It's standard equipment.) Most of them still don't even have push-button driving! So after you've seen the "almost" cars, come in and drive a Swept-Wing 58. You'll see why we say: They're catching on, but they can't catch up.

USTA Alters Rule On Track Members

COLUMBUS (P)—A change in the bylaws of the U. S. Trotting Assn. adopted Monday by its directors is believed to have sidestepped possible future tangles with federal anti-trust laws.

The change, passed unanimously, eliminates compulsory track membership in the USTA, parent body of the harness racing sport. The new rule sets up an alternative to membership — a contractual arrangement between the USTA and a track under which the track would receive USTA services at a specific fee without actually being an association member.

Redlegs Swap Gross To Bucs for Purkey

CINCINNATI (P)—Cincinnati's Redlegs, seeking to bolster the 1958 pitching staff, have acquired righthander Bob Purkey from the Pittsburgh Pirates. The Reds announced the move Monday in which they swapped Southpaw Don Gross for Purkey in a straight trade with no money involved.

2 of Top 10 Teams Lose First Games

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

No sooner was Frank McGuire's North Carolina Tar Heels tabbed again as the nation's No. 1 team than a flock of potent challengers turned up.

Maryland, bouncing Kentucky 71-62, and Cincinnati, romping 80-57 over a Temple team regarded as about tops in the East, fired the strongest playing - court protests last night to the way the nation's experts rated the teams in the first weekly Associated Press poll of the new campaign.

North Carolina, drawing 41 of 171 first-place votes and 1,018 points, led the first AP reckoning in a close race with Kansas, which drew 34 firsts and 965 points. Rounding out the top 10 were Kentucky, Bradley, Kansas State, San Francisco, Michigan State, West Virginia, St. Louis and Temple—in that order.

The second 10, in order: Minnesota, N. C. State, UCLA, Seattle, Notre Dame, Rice, Syracuse, Oklahoma City, Cincinnati, Memphis State.

Braves Hurling Power Told By Statistics

NEW YORK (P)—The strength and depth of the Milwaukee Braves' pitching staff and the brilliance of Warren Spahn, their ace lefty, was emphasized again today with the release of the official National League pitching records for 1957.

The figures showed why Spahn was voted the Cy Young award as the game's most outstanding pitcher. Warren was the only NL hurler to win 20 games, finishing with a 21-11 mark. He also pitched the most complete games, 18, and wound up in a tie for second place in the earned run competition with a 2.69 average.

It was Spahn's eighth 20-game victory campaign and gave him a total of 224 triumphs in 13 seasons with the Braves. He also had four shutouts in '57 to lift his career total to 42.

The Braves, who won their first pennant and world championship in Milwaukee, also had the most complete games, 60. Bob Buhl and Lew Burdette chipped in with 14 route - going performances. The champs also allowed the fewest home runs, 124.

Don Drysdale of the Dodgers turned in a good effort in his sophomore year. He finished in a dead-lock with Spahn in earned run average and his 17 victories were topped only by Spahn, Jack Sanford of Philadelphia with 19 and Buhl with 18.

Iowa Seeking New Support For Financial Aid Setup

CHICAGO (P)—University of Iowa today was seeking additional support to push through revision of the Big Ten financial aid to athletes plan at the conference's winter meeting this week.

The subject is expected to come up at the joint meeting of faculty representatives and athletic directors Friday.

Athletic publicity directors open the annual session today. Meetings continue through Saturday.

A review of operations of the financial aid program which was adopted by a 6-4 majority last Feb. 22, is among the prime items on the agenda. Northwestern, Ohio State, Minnesota and Iowa voted against the plan originally.

It is believed that Indiana and Northwestern may back Iowa in the revision proposal which would eliminate the "need" principle in awarding grants of aid.

The core of the current program is granting aid strictly on a need factor determined by personal financial reports filed by parents of the prospective athlete.

Iowa wants to continue awarding scholarships on the basis of such determination of need as it wishes. The award, however, could not exceed the cost of board, room, books, tuition or fees and $15 a month for incidental expenses. Such revision would not require the financial data now demanded.

Opponents of the Iowa proposal say that abandoning the need factor would help defeat the original purpose of the plan and bring back open recruiting.

The revision, requiring a majority vote for approval, is not expected to get far with the policymaking body of faculty representatives.

Several modifications will be proposed. One will be to liberalize the quota of grants to permit a greater number than the 100 yearly limit. This would be especially for minor sports. Some awards are not for the full benefit (just tuition, books, etc.) but count as full tenders.

Another modification would be in direct contrast—a tightening of the ceiling on the number of tenders or the dollar value of them. Reinstatement of Phil Dickens as Indiana's head football coach is expected. Dickens, hired from Wyoming on a five-year contract, was suspended July 28, for recruiting violations.

Lowly Game Warden Given Applause

MILWAUKEE (P)—Scientists in game management were advised Monday not to look down upon the hard-working game warden.

The advice was given by a panel of conservation experts at the opening meeting of the Midwest Wildlife Conference, attended by Representatives of 12 states and two Canadian provinces.

The term "game warden", employed commonly by the public, was avoided during the discussion of conservation law enforcement.

Charles A. Dambach, Ohio State University wildlife expert, said:

"Wildlife technicians should recognize that law enforcement work can be on just as high an intellectual level as technical work."

Cincinnati '5' Humbles Quint From Temple

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Cincinnati Bearcats, fast becoming one of the nation's most potent basketball teams, roared to their second victory Monday night by defeating 10th ranked Temple 80-57.

The Bearcats' much-lauded sophomore, Oscar Robertson, continued to live up to pre-season praises. The former Indianapolis high school star poured in 36 points hitting 16 of 21 field goal tries and picking off 18 rebounds.

In Cincinnati's previous 105 - 49 victory over Indiana State, Robertson hit 28 points in the 28 minutes he played.

The Owls, picked as one of the most talent-loaded Eastern teams, were little match for the Bearcats. Temple stayed with Cincinnati until Cincy's Spud Hornsby sank a jump shot that gave Cincinnati a 22-21 lead, and they thereafter were never headed.

In another game in southwestern Ohio, Miami crushed Heidelberg under a 97-56 score.

The Redskins' big Wayne Embury scored 27 points and matched that figure in rebounds. It was Miami's second victory and the Student Princes' third defeat.

The only other contest in the state saw Rio Grande take its second victory in six starts with a 62-44 win over West Virginia State, the Redmen's home court.

Auburn Receiving Football King Trophy

AUBURN, Ala. (P)—Let it rain, let it pour. The sun would still be shining and birds singing in Auburn hearts as the Tigers receive their first national football championship trophy today.

Auburn completed its 1957 season in a blaze of gridiron glory. It captured the Southeastern Conference title, won national defensive honors, and then was voted national champions for the year.

Monsanto To Expand

DAYTON (P)—The Monsanto Chemical Corp. is planning a $1 million expansion for its laboratories south of Miamisburg.

Michigan Keglers Leading Tourney

CHICAGO (P)—A pair of rugged competitors from Michigan led into the head-to-head match play finals of the first World's Invitation Bowling Tournament today in the Chicago Coliseum.

Eddie Lubanski, former minor league pitcher from Detroit, and Marion Ladewig, six tie all-star champion from Grand Rapids, set the pace for the 32 bowlers — 16 men and 16 women — who start shooting for a rich prize fund in the finals.

Lubanski, one of the top finishers in the All-Star Tournament the past several years, finished on top in the men's bracket by 79 pins over another Michigan star, Billy Golembiewski of Grand Rapids.

Fritz Crisler Tipped As New PCL Boss

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (P)—Fritz Crisler, Michigan's athletic director for 17 years, is "willing to listen" if the Pacific Coast Conference wants him as commissioner.

But Crisler denied he was seeking the job vacated last week by Victor O. Schmidt. Crisler expressed surprise when informed that the PCC post will be offered to him.

Johnson Company Gets Turnpike Cafe Pact

COLUMBUS (P)—The Ohio Turnpike Commission has awarded the Howard D. Johnson Co. an eight-year contract to operate six rest aurants at the eastern end of the Ohio Turnpike.

The commission has been operating those restaurants since Aug. 1. It took up the contract of the Olympic Commissary Co. of Chicago after it became dissatisfied with that firm's quality of service, food and housekeeping.

The Johnson company has agreed to pay the commission 15.15 per cent of gross revenues.

"ALMOST, BUT NOT ENOUGH" is our verdict on how close competitive cars have come to matching the Swept-Wing 58. Take style. Other new cars are "almost" as low in inches, but still seem high and boxy in looks. Some of them are "almost" going to fins, but not enough to really make a difference. Then take performance. None of the other 1958 cars have anything to match the sway-free, dip-free, vibration-free ride of Torsion-Aire. (It's standard equipment.) Most of them still don't even have push-button driving! So after you've seen the "almost" cars, come in and drive a Swept-Wing 58. You'll see why we say: They're catching on, but they can't catch up.

AWOL Airman
Accused in Bank Holdup

HAMILTON - An AWOL airman, charged with a holdup of the bank in his hometown after a weekend leave, has been arrested here.

Ed Mason, agent-in-charge of the FBI in Cincinnati, announced the arrest Monday night of Jimmy Grey Bennett, 21, by FBI agents and Hamilton police. He said the youth was armed, but was taken without incident.

In a late arraignment Monday night on the federal bank robbery charge, U. S. Commissioner Graham P. Hunt ordered Bennett held on $50,000 bond for extradition to North Carolina.

It was the third FBI arrest of a bank robbery suspect in Greater Cincinnati in eight days.

Mason said the youth is charged with holding up the State Planters' Bank at King, N. C., Nov. 18 and fleeing with $2,276.

The FBI said Bennett left his station at Shaw Air Force Base in Sumter, N. C., about 200 miles from King, shortly after returning late from a weekend at home.

Mason said agents Monday were checking motels near Bunker Hills
Air Force Base in Indiana where Bennett once was stationed and found record of a man who fit his description. A car license led the agents to Bennett's Hamilton rooming house.

Federal officials had filed a bank robbery charge against Bennett in Winston-Salem, N. C.

Danger Seen
In Cuts for Home Budget

NEW YORK - Adlai E. Stevenson, twice-defeated Democratic candidate for President, has advised against cutting the domestic budget to finance an accelerated missile program.

Stevenson outlined his program for catching up with Russia in science Monday night before the New York County Lawyers Assn.
He said the United States and its allies should give new economic help to the weaker areas of Asia and Africa to outmaneuver the Russians there.

It must not be a cautious approach, Stevenson said, but a resolute, nonpartisan determination to lead and stay on course.

He urged that the North Atlantic Treaty Organization be used not only for immediate military needs in meeting the Russian challenge but for a "joint search for a better, safer future."

While he strongly favors enlarging the foreign aid program, Stevenson said, he believes it should be coordinated with similar programs of other free governments.

At the same time, he said, it is up to capitalist democracies to prove they can do these things without sacrificing the essentials of individual welfare as the Soviet Union has done.

$287 Million Yearly Setup For Education Aid Studied

WASHINGTON - An educator said today Secretary of Welfare
Folsom is supporting a proposal that the federal government spend 287 million dollars a year on aid to education.

Heavy emphasis would be placed on science and mathematics in elementary and high schools. The plan would provide for some 20,000 scholarships a year, financed by the federal government but administered by the states.

G. Kerry Smith, executive secretary of the Assn. for Higher Education, is one of several education, is one of several education leaders who have been meeting in secrecy with U. S. Office of Education officials to work out the plan, which would run four or five years.

The AHE is a department of the National Education Assn.

In an article for the Dec. 15 issue of AHE's college and university bulletin, Smith wrote that the program, "designed to help meet the challenge of Soviet scientific advances, is being prepared by the U. S. Office of Education and supported by Secretary Folsom
... for inclusion in the President's budget message to Congress."

From other sources it was learned that current official thinking is that the new program would take priority over Eisenhower's school construction bill, which has been rebuffed by Congress.

The 287 million dollar figure attached to the new program compares with 451 million dollars requested by the administration for the first year of the

AWOL Airman Accused in Bank Holdup

HAMILTON — An AWOL airman, charged with a holdup of the bank in his hometown after a weekend leave, has been arrested here.
Ed Mason, agent-in-charge of the FBI in Cincinnati, announced the arrest Monday night of Jimmy Grey Bennett, 21, by FBI agents and Hamilton police. He said the youth was armed, but was taken without incident.
In a late arraignment Monday night, on the federal bank robbery charge, U. S. Commissioner Graham P. Hunt ordered Bennett held on $50,000 bond for extradition to North Carolina.
It was the third FBI arrest of a bank robbery suspect in Greater Cincinnati in eight days.
Mason said the youth is charged with holding up the State Planners' Bank at King, N. C., Nov. 18 and fleeing with $2,276.
The FBI said Bennett left his station at Shaw Air Force Base in Sumter, N. C., about 200 miles from King, shortly after returning late from a weekend at home.
Mason said agents Monday were checking motels near Bunker Hills Air Force Base in Indiana where Bennett once was stationed and found record of a man who fit his description. A car license led the agents to Bennett's Hamilton rooming house.
Federal officials had filed a bank robbery charge against Bennett in Winston-Salem, N. C.

Danger Seen In Cuts for Home Budget

NEW YORK — Adlai E. Stevenson, twice-defeated Democratic candidate for President, has advised against cutting the domestic budget to finance an accelerated missiles program.
Stevenson outlined his program for catching up with Russia in science Monday night before the New York County Lawyers Assn.
He said the United States and its allies should give new economic help to the weaker areas of Asia and Africa to outmaneuver the Russians there.
It must not be a cautious approach, Stevenson said, but a resolute, nonpartisan determination to lead and stay on course.
He urged that the North Atlantic Treaty Organization be used not only for immediate military needs in meeting the Russian challenge but for a "joint search for a better, safer future."
While he strongly favors enlarging the foreign aid program, Stevenson said, he believes it should be coordinated with similar programs of other free governments.
At the same time, he said, it is up to capitalist democracies to prove they can do these things without sacrificing the essentials of individual welfare as the Soviet Union has done.

Farm Bureau Chieftain Urges Go Slow on Missile Spending

CHICAGO — President Charles B. Shuman of the American Farm Bureau Federation today urged government leaders to go slow in expanding spending on missiles in an effort to overtake Russia in this field.
"Now is the time for calm judgment and factual appraisal of the facts," the farm leader said in discussing proposals for crash programs in developing ways of conquering outer space.
"All of those who favor big government spending programs and deficit financing have joined," he said, "The near hysterical demands for huge increases in the federal budget."
Shuman, in an address to the Farm Bureau's 39th annual convention, said the strength of the United States was not based on its ability always to be first in the scientific field.
"Our nation has moved into a position of world leadership not because our people were more intelligent or better inventors, but because our free choice incentive system has encouraged production."
"We probably would be playing directly into the Communist trap if we let ourselves be stampeded into a vastly expanded federal government spending program," he said. "We can undoubtedly have missiles and Sputniks within the limits of the present defense budget."
Shuman said threats to individual freedoms involved in concentration of power in the federal government were a more serious challenge than guided missiles.
In this connection, the Farm Bureau leader called for gradual withdrawal of government in the fields of pricing and controlling farm products. Too much government intervention has hindered agriculture's adjustment to peace time conditions, he said. As a consequence, he added, farmers are suffering economically.
Certainly, it appeared the voting delegates of the big farm organization were preparing to follow his lead and adopt a statement of policy calling for lower price supports and fewer controls. Resolutions embodying this principle were scheduled to be laid before the convention Wednesday for adoption.
At an open hearing late Monday at which any one was welcome to speak his mind, the resolutions committee heard not a single defender of present farm programs. Without exception, the more than 30 farmers who spoke called for less rather than more economic aid from government.

Ban on Students' Clothing Established

CLEVELAND — Declaring that students are showing increasingly bad taste in dressing, the board of education at nearby Solon has cracked down.
After the Christmas vacation, high school girls there are to avoid wearing tight sweaters, shorts, slacks, blue jeans, sheer blouses, tight skirts, excessive makeup and pin curl. Boys are banned from wearing tight trousers, T-shirts, unbuttoned shirts, beards, sideburns or haircuts considered undesirable.
Youngstown Reports
Idle List Growing
YOUNGSTOWN — A large demand for unemployment compensation because of layoffs in the steel industry has forced the Ohio Bureau of Unemployment Compensation to open a second office in Youngstown.
Approximately 9,000 persons are reported out of work as a result of cutbacks in steel production.

From other sources it was learned that current official thinking is that the new program would take priority over Eisenhower's school construction bill, which has been rebuffed by Congress.

The 287 million dollar figure attached to the new program compares with 451 million dollars requested by the administration for the first year of the proposed school construction program.
Smith said the new program is subject to change but that, as it stands now, it calls for:
1. Allotting 150 million dollars a year to raise the salaries of elementary and secondary school science and mathematics teachers and to provide laboratory equipment.
2. A total of 20 million dollars to uncover high school students with special talents in science and math and to seek to guide them into these critical fields, providing some 20,000 scholarships a year for such students.
3. One hundred millions dollars a year to expand and improve buildings and equipment at to-year technical institutes and at colleges and universities.
4. Twelve million dollars to expand the program of university graduate study already supported by some government agencies, such as the Atomic Energy Commission and the National Science Foundation.
5. Five million dollars to support foreign language instruction centers at universities, and to provide language fellowships.
The proportion of funds which states and institutions might have to put up to go with federal money would vary with different parts of the program.

Clearing House For Christmas Baskets Set Up

Chamber of Commerce Board Approves Plan Continuation

The Chamber of Commerce will serve as the clearing house for the Christmas basket program here again this year as in the past.

The board of directors approved a continuation of the plan, that has worked out satisfactorily in the past, at Monday night's meeting.

Tuesday morning, William Stoughton, Chamber manager, said a meeting of representatives of all organizations, including church groups, will be held at 10 a. m. Friday in the Chamber office to work out the overall plan. Indications now are that it will follow the same general pattern as that of previous years, Stoughton said.

Representatives of the county Welfare Department will be at the meeting, too, to help co-ordinate the plans.

Stoughton made it plain that the Chamber of Commerce will not rule on the need of families for the distribution of Christmas baskets and that its only function will be to help eliminate duplications and see that no worthy family is overlooked.

THE BOARD also was given a report on the Route 35 Assn. meeting that was held Dec. 5 in Xenia by Stoughton, who attended the meeting when neither of Fayette County's two members of the board, City Manager James F. Parkinson and Chamber President Walter Morrow, were able to attend it.

The directors approved a suggestion that the 29 charts and maps of the master plan for area development be mounted on masonite and covered with transparent plastic.

The plan was adopted as a means for preserving the plan and making it handier for study.

The master plan was drawn up by the city development department of Miami University after nearly a year of on-the-ground study and research.

Plan To Expand 4-H Program Is Outlined

A long-range plan for the improvement and expansion of the 4-H club program in Fayette County was outlined at a meeting of 30 advisors Monday night in the Farm Bureau auditorium. The board objectives are to develop a program that will meet the interests and needs of more young people in Fayette County.

Mrs. Norma Cunningham, home extension agent and "oil grover," associate county agent, presented the facts and figures of the 4-H program in Fayette County as it has existed over the past five years and then gave the 1957 statistics to the group.

The extension agents had charts showing that the number of youth, from 10 through 18 years of age in Fayette County has increased from 2,855 in 1951 to 3,212 this year. The 4-H enrollment has grown from 626 in 1951 to 862 this year.

Other statistics included the enrollment in each 4-H project over the past five years, the percentage of project completions during past years and the number of 4-H club members participating in 4-H activities such as camp, officers and advisors training conference, grooming clinic and demonstrations.

THE ADVISORS then split up into groups to discuss the problems which they detected when the statistics were presented. Problems which the discussion groups considered were: (1) How to get more advisors; (2) how to increase the quality of 4-H club work; (3) how to raise the percentage of completions; (4) how to get fewer projects being carried in one club; (5) how to get parent participation; (6) how to get up-to-date information to the advisors; (7) how to get more and better demonstrations; (8) how to reach children who need 4-H club work most; (9) how to get better publicity on the 4-H projects and program; (10) how to avoid conflict with other activities.

The advisors then discussed methods for solving these problems. The solutions as the advisors saw them, are: (1) to get more advisors the group felt that it is the advisor's job to work in more areas who, in most cases, are parents of the club members; and to invite interested persons in the county to county meetings where they can be encouraged to serve as an advisor and finally to use junior leaders more effectively in the club; (2) to have a higher percentage of completions, the group decided that the advisors should have close contact with the child and the parents, and, if necessary, go to the home and discuss the project work with the parents; (3) to increase the quality of the project, the group decided that there needs to be smaller clubs with less diversification of projects in the club; (4) in order to have fewer projects in one club, the group decided that there should be more advisors and more "project clubs" in only one or two specific project areas; (5) The advisors felt that a leader's training guide, prepared by the extension agents, could be devised which would have the latest subject matter information; and that junior leaders, after their meetings, should carry back information about the 4-H program to the advisors; (6) In order to get parent participation the group decided that advisors should have a meeting with the parents of the club members to explain the 4-H program and just what it means to complete a project; (7) In order to get more and better demonstration, the group felt that all advisors should know how to give a good demonstration, to assist the club member in giving a simple demonstration to assign members one per meeting and it was suggested that demonstrations should perhaps have the name changed to "show how"; (8) The group felt that in order to reach the children who need club work, more simple projects should be used, and advisors should work directly with the family, and forget about having the best club in the county; (9) that new clubs should be formed which would deal entirely with underprivileged youth.

The conflict for time with other activities problem remained unsolved inasmuch as the advisors did not have any solutions to this problem.

The 1958 4-H Council will meet Dec. 31 to plan the next year's program of activities based on the discussion of Monday night.

The 1958 Council consists of Mrs. Walter Carman, president; Bob Highfield and Mrs. Joe Loudner, vice presidents; Mrs. Richard Craig, secretary; Rodney Acton, treasurer. A wards Committee - Mrs. Frank Dill, Bob Highfield, Mrs. Harold Moats, Mrs. Robert Kiever; Party Committee - Mrs. Reynold Slaughter, Jr., Mrs. Walter Hyer, Mrs. Gene Thompson, Mrs. John Cannon; Health and Safety - Mrs. Joe Loudner, Mrs. Hugh La Follette, Mrs. Keith Garringer, Wayne Baird; Camp Committee - Rodney Acton, Mrs. Maynard; Hoppes, Mrs. Lewis Parrett, Mrs. Forest Fry; Junior Leadership - Robby Hagler, president; Junior Fair Board - Mike Wagner, president; Livestock Committee - Robert Milburn, David Carr, Joe McClure, Frank Dill, Osman King and Bill Braun.

Development Corp. Meeting Postponed

The regular monthly meeting of the board of directors of the Washington C. H. Development Corp., which was to have been held Monday noon, was postponed a week, until next Monday noon.

The action was taken, it was explained, when it was learned the committee that had been named to investigate several possible industrial sites, did not have its report ready.

Several other reports, including one on the sale of stock in the corporation, that were to have been made Monday will be given at the meeting next Monday.

Tom Murray, chairman of the board, and Tom Mark, who headed the stock-selling campaign, said that although the campaign ended two months ago, stock is still being subscribed and that it is still available.

The corporation, capitalized for $200,000, is designed to provide sites for new industrial and lend (not give) financial aid to those that need it, if they are approved by the board.

Two from Here At Meeting of Farm Bureau

At least two Fayette Countians are now in Chicago for the 39th annual meeting of the American Farm Bureau Federation this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sollars, Snowhill Rd., are taking in the convention as observers, however, and not as official delegates, although Sollars is a director of the Ohio Farm Bureau and a member of its legislative committee.

Sollars said Saturday at the Fayette County Farm Bureau directors meeting before he left for Chicago that he wanted to keep up to date on affairs of the organization on the national, as well as state and county, level.

Other directors noted that he will be in a position to make a first-hand report on the national convention to the board here when he returns from Chicago.

FAYETTE County Farm Bureau members expressed their views on a variety of questions to the national convention indirectly through the list of resolutions adopted about a month ago at the annual county meeting. These resolutions were forwarded to the state organization for incorporation in the state report to be made to the national convention.

At their meeting Saturday night, directors of the Fayette County Farm Bureau devoted most of their time to routine matters.

Several names were suggested for chairmen of the women's committee and legislative committee, but final appointment was deferred until the posts are accepted.

Clearing House For Christmas Baskets Set Up

Chamber of Commerce Board Approves Plan Continuation

The Chamber of Commerce will serve as the clearing house for the Christmas basket program here again this year as in the past.

The board of directors approved a continuation of the plan, that has worked out satisfactorily in the past, at Monday night's meeting.

Tuesday morning, William Stoughton, Chamber manager, said a meeting of representatives of all organizations, including church groups, will be held at 10 a. m. Friday in the Chamber office to work out the overall plan. Indications now are that it will follow the same general pattern as that of previous years, Stoughton said.

Representatives of the county Welfare Department will be at the meeting, too, to help co-ordinate the plans.

Stoughton made it plain that the Chamber of Commerce will not rule on the need of families for the distribution of Christmas baskets and that its only function will be to help eliminate duplications and see that no worthy family is overlooked.

THE BOARD also was given a report on the Route 35 Assn. meeting that was held Dec. 5 in Xenia by Stoughton, who attended the meeting when neither of Fayette County's two members of the board, City Manager James F. Parkinson and Chamber President Walter Morrow, were able to attend it.

The directors approved a suggestion that the 29 charts and maps of the master plan for area development be mounted on masonite and covered with transparent plastic.

The plan was adopted as a means for preserving the plan and making it handy for study.

The master plan was drawn up by the city development department of Miami University after nearly a year of on-the-ground study and research.

Plan To Expand 4-H Program Is Outlined

A long range plan for the improvement and expansion of the 4-H club program in Fayette County was outlined at a meeting of 30 advisors Monday night in the Farm Bureau auditorium. The board objectives are to develop a program that will meet the interests and needs of more young people in Fayette County.

Mrs. Norma Cunningham, home extension agent and 'nail grover, associate county agent, presented the facts and figures of the 4-H program in Fayette County as it has existed over the past five years and then gave the 1957 statistics to the group.

The extension agents had charts showing that the number of youth, from 10 through 18 years of age in Fayette County has increased from 2,855 in 1951 to 3,212 this year. The 4-H enrollment has grown from 626 in 1951 to 862 this year.

Other statistics included the enrollment in each 4-H project over the past five years, the percentage of project completions during past years and the number of 4-H club members participating in 4-H activities such as camp, officers and advisors training conference, grooming clinic and demonstrations.

THE ADVISORS then split up into groups to discuss the problems which they detected when the statistics were presented. Problems which the discussion groups considered were: (1) How to get more advisors; (2) how to increase the quality of 4-H club work; (3) how to raise the percentage of completions; (4) how to get fewer projects being carried in one club; (5) how to get parent participation; (6) how to get up-to-date information to the advisors; (7) how to get more and better demonstrations; (8) how to reach children who need 4-H club work most; (9) how to get better publicity on the 4-H projects and program; (10) how to avoid conflict with other activities.

The advisors then discussed methods for solving these problems. The solutions as the advisors saw them, are: (1) to get more advisors the group felt that it is the advisor's job to work in more assistants who, in most cases, are parents of the club members; and to invite interested persons in the county to county meetings where they can be encouraged to serve as an advisor and finally to use junior leaders more effectively in the club; (2) to have a higher percentage of completions, the group decided that the advisors should have close contact with the child and the parents, and, if necessary, go to the home and discuss the project work with the parents; (3) to increase the quality of the project, the group decided that there needs to be smaller clubs with less diversification of projects in the club; (4) in order to have fewer projects in one club, the group decided that there should be more advisors and more "project clubs" in only one or two specific project areas; (5) The advisors felt that a leader's training guide, prepared by the extension agents, could be devised which would have the latest subject matter information and that junior leaders, after their meetings, should carry back information about the 4-H program to the advisors; (6) In order to get parent participation the group decided that advisors should have a meeting with the parents of the club members to explain the 4-H program and just what it means to complete a project; (7) In order to get more and better demonstration, the group felt that all advisors should know how to give a good demonstration, to assist the club member in giving a simple demonstration to assign members one per meeting and it was suggested that demonstrations should perhaps have the name changed to "show how"; (8) The group felt that in order to reach the children who need club work, more simple projects should be used, and advisors should work directly with the family, and forget about having the best club in the county; (9) that new clubs should be formed which would deal entirely with underprivileged youth.

The conflict for time with other activities problem remained unsolved inasmuch as the advisors did not have any solutions to this problem.

The 1958 4-H Council will meet Dec. 31 to plan the next year's program of activities based on the discussion of Monday night.

The 1958 Council consists of Mrs. Walter Carman, president; Bob Highfield and Mrs. Joe Loudner, vice presidents; Mrs. Richard Craig, secretary; Rodney Acton, treasurer; Awardees Committee - Mrs. Frank Dill, Bob Highfield, Mrs. Harold Moats, Mrs. Robert Klever; Party Committee - Mrs. Reynold Slaughter, Jr., Mrs. Walter Hyer, Mrs. Gene Thompson, Mrs. John Cannon; Health and Safety - Mrs. Joe Loudner, Mrs. Hugh La Follette, Mrs. Keith Garringer, Wayne Baird; Camp Committee - Rodney Acton, Mrs. Maynard; Hoppes, Mrs. Lewis Parrett, Mrs. Forest Fry; Junior Leadership - Robby Hagler, president; Junior Fair Board - Mike Wagner, president; Livestock Committee - Robert Milburn, David Carr, Joe McClure, Frank Dill, Osman King and Bill Braun.

Refreshments were served during the meeting which was presided over by Mrs. Walter Carman.

Development Corp. Meeting Postponed

The regular monthly meeting of the board of directors of the Washington C. H. Development Corp., which was to have been held Monday noon, was postponed a week, until next Monday noon.

The action was taken, it was explained, when it was learned the committee that had been named to investigate several possible industrial sites, did not have its report ready.

Several other reports, including one on the sale of stock in the corporation, that were to have been made Monday will be given at the meeting next Monday.

Tom Murray, chairman of the board, and Tom Mark, who headed the stock-selling campaign, said that although the campaign ended two months ago, stock is still being subscribed and that it is still available.

The corporation, capitalized for $200,000, is designed to provide sites for new industrial and lend (not give) financial aid to those that need it, if they are approved by the board.

Two from Here At Meeting of Farm Bureau

At least two Fayette Countians are now in Chicago for the 39th annual meeting of the American Farm Bureau Federation this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sollars, Snowhill Rd., are taking in the convention as observers, however, and not as official delegates, although Sollars is a director of the Ohio Farm Bureau and a member of its legislative committee.

Sollars said Saturday at the Fayette County Farm Bureau directors meeting before he left for Chicago that he wanted to keep up to date on affairs of the organization on the national, as well as state and county, level.

Other directors noted that he will be in a position to make a first-hand report on the national convention to the board here when he returns from Chicago.

FAYETTE County Farm Bureau members expressed their views on a variety of questions to the national convention indirectly through the list of resolutions adopted about a month ago at the annual county meeting. These resolutions were forwarded to the state organization for incorporation in the state report to be made to the national convention. At their meeting Saturday night, directors of the Fayette County Farm Bureau devoted most of their time to routine matters.

Several names were suggested for chairmen of the women's committee and legislative committee, but final appointment was deferred until the posts are accepted.
